Civil War Train Due

City To Salute 'General' July 15

CIVIL WAR RELIC. "The General," historic Civil War locomotive, will stop in East Liverpool for a few hours July 15 on a delay en route from Conway to Wellsville. Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon and the East Liverpool Historical Society have made arrangements for local residents to inspect the famous old engine on its swing through Ohio for Civil War Centennial observances. The wood-burning engine was stolen by a group of Union soldiers at Big Shanty, Ga., during the war but the raiders were later captured before they could return North. One was William Campbell of Salineville. The historical locomotive will be towing a museum car.

K May Take Space Girl To Berlin

Would Be Attempt To Offset Kennedy Triumphant Visit

BERLIN (AP)—There is speculation that Premier Khrushchev may bring Soviet spacewoman Valentina Tereshkova to East Berlin Friday in an attempt to offset President Kennedy's triumphant visit to West Berlin.

Observers said the Soviet leader will have to do something spectacular to whip up enthusiasm among the East Berliners.

There has been speculation that Khrushchev might reveal a new Soviet policy on German problems. But the general feeling is that he is too busy disputing with the Red Chinese to take on the West for a new period of acute tension.

There is little chance, however, that even the 26-year-old spacewoman could bring out the crowds or arouse the enthusiasm that greeted Kennedy in West Berlin Wednesday.

Gerhard Goetting, an East German Communist party official, said during a round-table discussion with East Berlin newsmen that "The visits of Khrushchev and Kennedy cannot be compared Khrushchev, said Goetting, was coming to support East Germany's policy of peace as well as to honor East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht, who will be 70 Sunday.

Kennedy did nothing but "aid the West German militarists who want to start another war . . . He never said a single word in West Berlin about the necessity of keeping peace in the world," Goetting said.

Sentimental Pilgrimage

President Puts Aside Problems To Visit Ireland

DUBLIN (AP)—President Kennedy put aside world problems today to make a sentimental pilgrimage to the Irish hamlet where his great-grandfather was born.

The President clipped three days from his crowded European itinerary to visit Irish cities and towns. He reserved an hour for a helicopter hop to Dunganstown, which Patrick Kennedy left 120 years ago to seek his fortune in the United States.

Dunganstown consists of a couple of farmhouses, a country lane and a few pastures.

The ancestral home, a tin-roofed hut, is a storage shed on the farm of widow Mary Ryan, the President's third cousin.

The hut, last visited by Kennedy when he was a congressman in 1947, bears a sign identifying it as the Kennedy homestead. For Kennedy, the barnyard has been covered with concrete, a manure pile has been removed from a nearby field and the farm animals are gone.

Mrs. Ryan did not seem flustered by the President's visit. She prepared a pot of tea and tangy soda bread for "Cousin Jack."

Kennedy received a ringing welcome from about a quarter of a million jubilant Irishmen Wednesday. Dubliners waved banners reading "Welcome Home, John Kennedy," as the presidential motorcade drove to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Matthew McCloskey.

American flags flew on buildings all over the Irish capital. Many signs greeted the President as "Sean"—the Irish version of John, pronounced Shawn.

Legislation Calls For No New Taxes

Aimed At General Holding-Of-Line On State Spending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The appropriations bill — those 114 pages authorizing and spelling out how the state is to spend money during the two-year period starting Monday—is ready for Gov. James A. Rhodes' signature.

Both houses agreed to a conference committee report Wednesday night. In the Senate, the vote was 29-0. In the House, where Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, admitted, "This is not quite the report I would like to bring back," the vote was 103-17.

The two-year total in the bill as it goes to the governor is $1,307,641,434, or about $341,000 more than when the bill came out of the House May 1.

The Senate passed it last week, but the House refused to concur in Senate amendments. So the conference committee, composed of three members from each house, was named to try to reconcile the versions.

There's no doubt the governor will sign it. It calls for no new taxes, a general holding-of-the-line on spending by state departments and agencies, and pretty much what the Republican governor wanted of the Republican-controlled 105th General Assembly.

While the six-month session could wind up today, House Speaker Roger Cloud indicated some bills will be carried over until Friday if the hour grows late and there's still business to be handled.

The two houses were in session a total of nearly nine hours Wednesday. They came back after supper to tackle "jitney" calendars; that is, an assortment of bills brought up without a formally printed list.

Among other things Wednesday, the House:

Concurred, 106-11, in Senate amendments toughening Ohio's penalty point system for errant motorists. Under this bill, the state registrar of motor vehicles would refer cases of 12-point violators to Municipal, County or Juvenile Court. The driver has 30 days to show cause why his license should not be suspended. Suspensions could range from six months on the first 12-point violations to five years for three or more times.

For Jobs On Federal Projects

Wirtz Says New Standards To Avert Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today the government soon will issue new standards to make sure there is no discrimination in employment on federal projects.

The government's nondiscrimination policy in the construction industry will be tightened, he said, to make sure before a contract is awarded that contractors can comply — not after work on the contract begins.

The forum for Wirtz' announcement was a meeting of a House judiciary subcommittee where he testified in support of President Kennedy's civil rights package.

Of the quest for improving the lot of the American Negro, Wirtz said in his prepared testimony: "There has been no more important issue before the country and the Congress—save only the issue of war and peace."

Wirtz followed Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who urged passage of the program Wednesday. Republican members made clear that the GOP price tag for helping the Democratic administration get the bill through Congress is a strong hand in writing the legislation.

They showed the administration can count on GOP support only if it is willing to compromise on its sweeping seven-point program.

In advance of Wirtz' testimony, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., made known that he intends to offer an amendment to deny National Labor Relations Board and other benefits to unions that practice discrimination.

"I don't think the administration will support the amendment in a showdown but I am going to give its supporters a chance to go on record," Goldwater said in an interview.

Launching the administration civil rights bill on its trouble-strewn course through Congress was a five-hour job for the attorney general, who was subjected to detailed, legalistic questioning, mostly by Republicans.

Their chief criticism was aimed at a proposal to ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants and other places serving the public.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., a leader of the GOP civil rights bloc in the House, said after the hearing he thought Kennedy had "acquitted himself very well."

Lindsay expressed disappointment, however, that Kennedy had not even read the 41 Republican civil rights bills introduced last January and the 38 additional bills put in this month, most of them covering the same ground as the bill outlined by the President last week.

The chief disagreement between Kennedy and the Republicans was over the public accommodations section. The administration is relying chiefly on the federal power to regulate interstate commerce for its authority to act in this field, while the GOP favors pinning any action to the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. At the heart of this disagreement is the traditional Republican opposition to any expansion of federal power in the private enterprise sector.

GOP members said the bill gives too much power to the attorney general, fails to cover discriminatory practices in labor unions and includes proposals already in the law.

Washington's Silent About Sex Scandals

Alleged Call Girl Racket At U.N. Is Third Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trio of sex and spy scandals in Europe and the United Nations seems to have aroused some curiosity but little excitement in official Washington.

The FBI won't say anything officially, but U.S. agents obviously are investigating the Profumo affair, the Swedish spy scandal and an alleged call girl racket at the United Nations. But no official, either in the Kennedy administration or in Congress, is contending that the succession of scandals has wrenched the security of the United States.

Most officials are keeping their views to themselves.

"You don't hear it talked about much in Congress," said Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Tower, one of the few congressmen to comment, had this to say about the Profumo affair in England:

"I think the concern on the U.S. security side is relatively mild."

But, Tower added: "My big concern is what this will do to the Tory government."

Tower said the latest scandal—the arrest of Swedish Air Force Col. Stig Erik Wennerstrom as a Soviet spy—broke too recently to see how it affects the security of the United States, but "I would be more concerned about the Swedish affair than the British affair."

At the State Department, all officials were meeting requests for comment with a stiff "no comment."

Wennerstrom, arrested in Stockholm, was accused of turning over military data on Sweden and other countries. The Swedes did not name the other countries, but they presumably included the United States.

Wennerstrom was Sweden's air attache in Washington from 1952 to 1957. This job gave him access to secrets involved in Sweden's purchase of the U.S. Army Hawk missile system in 1960.

In the United Nations case, FBI and Central Intelligence Agency agents are reported investigating at least 15 girls who are said to have worked in New York for Harry Alan Towers, a British Broadcasting Co. producer.

Towers jumped $10,000 bail in New York in 1961 after he was charged with importing Maria Novotny, a relative of President Antonin Novotny of Communist Czechoslovakia, into the United States to work as a prostitute. Miss Novotny later was convicted as a prostitute.

Up She Goes: 95 Possible!

Friday To Be More Humid And Warm

Mix another gallon of iced tea, Mother, the mercury may climb to 95 today!

Temperatures soared about 90 degrees in East Liverpool Wednesday afternoon and the Ohio weatherman said today's range in the continuing heat wave will be 90 to 95 degrees.

And there is no relief in sight as Friday will be more humid and warm with some afternoon cloudiness.

The Stratton Dam had an official high of 90 yesterday afternoon and downtown East Liverpool had 90 at 2:30 p. m. with the sun almost overhead so it was assumed the mercury climbed another degree or two later in the day.

The overnight low here at 6 a.m was 63 and the dam had 68 at 7 a. m. Tonight's low range will be about the same — from 62 to 68.

While this is the hottest weather of the year, so far, it is not unusual for June, according to Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport. He recorded a high of 91 yesterday.

His records show a reading of 100 as the all-time high and numerous dates when 95 degrees prevailed all day. He said a June without such high temperatures would be unusual.

With no rain in sight, drought conditions continue in some parts of Columbiana County, which has received "spotty" rain in recent weeks — some sections getting a drenching and others barely a sprinkle. He said his area has had less than 2 inches of rain the entire month.

He indicated he and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, who comprise the Board of Control, expect to award the contract to the St. Clairsville firm if the final details of the work can be ironed out to the city's satisfaction. Bids were opened Friday.

Council And Mayor Consider Relieving Police Of This Job

A proposal to create the job of parking meter attendant and take the work away from the police department has been discussed by Mayor William Daugherty and Wellsville City Council.

In effect, the proposal would mean cutting one man from the police department. There is an opening at present, due to the resignation of Patrolman Joseph Heiney, but the mayor has not named a replacement.

Caucus sessions were held Monday morning and Monday night between Council and the mayor. All were in attendance at one time or another except Mrs. Mary Rahter, president, and Councilman Allen Baldwin.

The mayor today said a discussion was held on some method to obtain funds to purchase necessary radio equipment for the police and fire departments and

Governor Ends Segregation

Legal Showdown Looms In Kentucky Integration

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A legal showdown loomed today on Gov. Bert Combs' executive order directing the end of segregation in all state-licensed businesses and professions.

Jack M. Lowery Jr., attorney for the Louisville Tavern Operators Association, said the order is unconstitutional.

"No provision I know of authorizes a governor to regulate the affairs of private citizens by proclamation," he said.

Civil rights leaders generally hailed the order.

The governor's office, which sought advice from the U.S. attorney general before drawing up the order, said it is valid and enforceable.

Practically every retail outlet in the state and almost every profession serving the public is affected by Combs' directive, to take effect in two months at most.

Julius Rather, the governor's legal assistant, said Wednesday's document is the most all-encompassing any state has proclaimed. He predicted the Supreme Court will uphold combs' action if a lawsuit is carried that far.

Perhaps the most widespread impact would be on motels, restaurants and taverns, which have been primary integration targets.

Pope To Reconvene Council On Sept. 29

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has formally ordered the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council to reconvene Sept. 29, the Vatican announced today.

An announcement by the Vatican's special council press office disclosed the date and said the text of the order will be sent to Roman Catholic bishops around the world.

More than 2,500 are expected to come to Rome for the assembly, the biggest gathering of Roman Catholic prelates in history. The council was first called by Pope John XXIII to promote the cause of Christian unity.

The council convened last Oct. 11. Pope John recessed it on Dec. 8 until Sept. 8, but it was automatically suspended by Pope John's death.

Child Injured In Car Crash; Autoist Cited

An Akron motorist was cited on two charges Wednesday night as the aftermath of a two-car crash at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. in which an 8-year-old child was injured, police reported.

Terry Wolfe, son of Mrs. Edna Wolfe, 207 Walnut St. was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the neck and shoulder and contusions of the left hand.

Officers said the child was a passenger in a 1959 coupe operated by Robert W. Camerlin, 23, of 415 College St., which was struck by a 1961 sedan driven by Hugh MacDonald, 22, of Akron.

The child was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. His mother and a sister Vicki Wolfe, also passengers in the auto, escaped injury.

Officers cited MacDonald on charges of passing on the right and driving without an operator's permit.

At MacDonald's hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, the charge of passing on the right was changed to failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Judge Weiner issued the final ruling after Henry Jasek of Pittsburgh and Eugene V. Wojcik of Bethel Park, owners and operators of the City Coin Machine Service of Bridgeville, failed to appear to show cause why the machines should not be destroyed.

The machines tentatively are to be destroyed Tuesday at a dump near here.

The 175 multiple-coin pinball machines, 25 console-type slot machines and three horoscope machines valued at over $150,000 were confiscated by 18 State Police after a raid on a house and warehouse at Florence, Pa.

Civil rights leaders generally hailed the order.

The governor's office, which sought advice from the U.S. attorney general before drawing up the order, said it is valid and enforceable.

Practically every retail outlet in the state and almost every profession serving the public is affected by Combs' directive, to take effect in two months at most.

Julius Rather, the governor's legal assistant, said Wednesday's document is the most all-encompassing any state has proclaimed. He predicted the Supreme Court will uphold combs' action if a lawsuit is carried that far.

Perhaps the most widespread impact would be on motels, restaurants and taverns, which have been primary integration targets.

Pope To Reconvene Council On Sept. 29

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has formally ordered the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council to reconvene Sept. 29, the Vatican announced today.

An announcement by the Vatican's special council press office disclosed the date and said the text of the order will be sent to Roman Catholic bishops around the world.

More than 2,500 are expected to come to Rome for the assembly, the biggest gathering of Roman Catholic prelates in history. The council was first called by Pope John XXIII to promote the cause of Christian unity.

The council convened last Oct. 11. Pope John recessed it on Dec. 8 until Sept. 8, but it was automatically suspended by Pope John's death.

Child Injured In Car Crash; Autoist Cited

An Akron motorist was cited on two charges Wednesday night as the aftermath of a two-car crash at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. in which an 8-year-old child was injured, police reported.

Terry Wolfe, son of Mrs. Edna Wolfe, 207 Walnut St. was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the neck and shoulder and contusions of the left hand.

Officers said the child was a passenger in a 1959 coupe operated by Robert W. Camerlin, 23, of 415 College St., which was struck by a 1961 sedan driven by Hugh MacDonald, 22, of Akron.

The child was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. His mother and a sister Vicki Wolfe, also passengers in the auto, escaped injury.

Officers cited MacDonald on charges of passing on the right and driving without an operator's permit.

At MacDonald's hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, the charge of passing on the right was changed to failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Court Confirms Order To Destroy Machines

WASHINGTON, Pa. — Judge David H. Weiner ruled Wednesday that an order to destroy 208 pinball, slot and horoscope machines seized in a raid June 5 by Pennsylvania State Police is final.

Judge Weiner issued the final ruling after Henry Jasek of Pittsburgh and Eugene V. Wojcik of Bethel Park, owners and operators of the City Coin Machine Service of Bridgeville, failed to appear to show cause why the machines should not be destroyed.

The machines tentatively are to be destroyed Tuesday at a dump near here.

The 175 multiple-coin pinball machines, 25 console-type slot machines and three horoscope machines valued at over $150,000 were confiscated by 18 State Police after a raid on a house and warehouse at Florence, Pa.

During the summer program of the Chautauqua Institute there are lectures, symphony concerts, operas, plays, summer schools, religious activities and summer sports. Harry W. Thomas of Beaver Falls, business manager, said the chorus considers it an honor since few industrial choruses are invited.

THE CHORUS has appeared 14 years at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, where cultural programs are sponsored in July and August by the Ministerial Association of the Wheeling area.

It's program at Chautauqua will include: Sacred — "Creation" (Richter), "Let Thy Holy Presence" (Tschenokoff - Ehret), "Almighty God of Our Fathers" (James) and "Come, O Jesus, Come to Me" (Cherubini-Ehret).

Also, accompanying the group and performing during the intermission will be Miss Sara Holgate, violinist, and Miss Phyllis Zimmerman, accompanist. Both are from Wellsville.

Other members of the Chorus are: Ernest Lowe, Jess Finley, William K. Gibbs, Darrell C. Serafy, Robert Kittridge, Frank Thornberry, Stanley Hindmarch and Victor Smith, all of East Liverpool; Allen Haggerty of Midland, Dale Groscost and Rick Sanford, both of Midland Heights; George Myers, Jerome F. McCreery, W. M. Chapman, E. G. Kurkas and George Baacke, all of Ohio View; Ted Cunningham of New Cumberland, Donald Y. Clark of Beaver, David Frazier of Beaver Falls and John Guernsey of Crafton.

THOMAS has been business manager since it was organized Sept. 3, 1947. Jess Finley of East Liverpool is secretary-treasurer.

Martell has been director of the chorus the last three years. He is minister of music at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church at Beaver Falls. A former organist and director of the 11th United Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, he is former choir director in East Liverpool and Wellsville. During a period of 15 years in East Liverpool, he organized the Civic Orchestra and did some teaching of voice and coaching in piano.

He started his musical education in Quebec, Canada, and studied piano and theory. Later, he studied the violin after coming to the United States. Winning a scholarship, he began the study of voice at the Grand Rapids Conservatory of Music.

After moving to Pittsburgh, he resumed vocal studies at Pittsburgh Music Institute and sang in local churches and appeared as guest soloist for various programs. Before affiliation with the Crucible Chorus, he was with Volkwein Brothers, Inc., a Pittsburgh music store.

Our Commitment To Europe

President Kennedy's hearty reassurances about U.S. intentions to defend Europe to the last ditch are being made for only one reason.

Many European political leaders, chiefly France's President de Gaulle, doubt that reassurances made previously are still in full effect.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization came into existence in April 1949 — more than 14 years ago. It was created for the common defense of its members — the United States, Great Britain, Northern Ireland, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxemburg, the Netherlands, Norway and Portugal. Later, West Germany and Turkey were added to the alliance.

The United States has supplied the backbone for SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe) and the bulk of the military power to guarantee the security of other NATO members.

It has done this in the wishful thought, as has been the case with the United Nations, that if it persisted long enough collective security would take root and grow.

BUT THE GROWTH never came up to expectations. Most recently, France, which never has accepted a full share of NATO's burden, has given shocking evidence of regressing into isolation. President de Gaulle has been soliciting a closer alliance with West Germany, which in turn has been openly soliciting closer ties with the United States.

This is power politics with no holds barred.

Mr. Kennedy's assurances that the United States will risk its cities to defend the cities of Europe in a nuclear war are all in the game.

When NATO began, in April 1949, the United States had a monopoly on atomic bombs. The other NATO members had everything to gain and nothing to lose by cooperating with the world's only atomic power.

In September 1949, the monopoly was broken. Russia had exploded its first atomic bomb. The cold war started in earnest. Ever since, the question has been whether the United States would risk its cities if the Soviet Union attacked its NATO allies in Europe. Would it attack Russian cities with its strategic air force and missiles?

PRESIDENT DE GAULLE, a French realist, says it wouldn't and declares that France will dissociate itself from the United States, as he caused it to do when he blocked Britain's bid to join the Common Market. His reason was that Britain was too close to the United States.

President Kennedy, insists there has been no change; that the U.S. commitment to Europe is the same today as it was in that faroff springtime when all the atomic bombs in the world were in American hands.

To A Young Hero

Columbiana County can point with pride to another of its young people.

This time it is Herbert S. Hull of New Waterford, a Boy Scout, who is in line for congratulations as the recipient of an award from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Young Hull was honored for his rescue of a drowning youth last spring.

His name can be added to the ever-growing list of those who have brought out the finest in our teen-agers.

Marching Is Not Forbidden

The fragmentary history of marches on Washington is being pawed over frantically for clues to the proposed march of 100,000 Negroes this summer.

The fragments reveal two things of special interest.

First, that mass marching is not forbidden under any law and, second, that its results to date have not been worth the effort.

There have been four great marches proposed. Three materialized. All failed.

THE FIRST was intended to intimidate a Repulican senator from Kansas into voting for impeachment of President Johnson in 1867. It failed. The Republican senator, Edmund Gibson Ross, voted against impeachment.

The second was intended to intimidate an Electoral Commission into voting for Samuel J. Tilden instead of Rutherford B. Hayes in 1877. It fizzled before it started, though prominent persons backing Tilden had agitated for it and suggested that the marchers carry firearms and shoot it out in Washington. Among these was Joseph Pulitzer, the newspaper publisher.

The third was Jacob Coxeys' Commonwealth of Christ movement, which was supposed to march into Washington 100,000 strong — the customary quota. It reached Washington in 1894 with about 500 marchers, instead, and finally was dispersed by a District of Columbia offer of free transportation home.

The fourth was the Bonus Expeditionary Force of 1932, which reached Washington 15,000 strong, failed to intimidate Congress and finally was dispersed by federal troops and an appropriation of $100,000 for transportation back home.

IF NEGRO leadership goes through with plans for a march on Washington this summer, there will be no question of legal rights. There will be, however, a broad question of feasibility.

The history of marches in Washington does not suggest that the effort is worth the calluses or that the publicity is worth the unfavorable reaction to threatened intimidation.

Same Old Story

The wheeling and dealing continues at the Red Dog as it looks like the Jockey Club all over again.

The equipment is pretty much the same and the same old dealers are at their accustomed places. And, to make matters worse, the same old law enforcement officers are on the outside looking in—still doing nothing to correct the situation.

This leads to the same old belief—that there are the same old payoffs from the local to the state level. And there are the same old people who are patronizing the tables, people just as guilty as those who operate the club and as guilty as those who accept the graft.

It all adds up to the same old stinking mess which has been so characteristic of parts of Hancock County and much of West Virginia for years.

The state recently was given deserved recognition at Washington for its cleanup and beautifying activities. It would be wonderful if it also could be recognized for cleaning up the gambling elements.

News From Home

Herewith, another set of pre-written messages to send to relatives, friends and neighbors who have gone vacationing and will be wanting to hear from home:

Dear Neighbor: As had been promised before you left town, we have been keeping an eye on your place and a good thing, too. What do you suppose we saw? Not a burglar, nor a fireman but termites. Yes sir, termites. All we noticed at first was this little pile of sawdust, which the exterminator said was carpenter ants. But when we used the key you left us to show him what was going on inside, he said it might already be too late to save the place. Only a few ants but myriads of termites. Please advise.

Josh

Dear Sis: Wouldn't you know that the day after you pulled out to go to the seashore, Aunt Sophronia decided it was time to divide up those beautiful pieces of antique furniture among her nieces? I explained to her that you were on a vacation and she said it was a pity because you should have been there to pick out what you wanted. Jane and the other girls all showed up and we all took home everything we could carry in our cars. Frankly, I don't think there's much left.

Eunice

Dear Associate: I don't know how to tell you this exactly, but you must have sensed the Old Man was getting ready to drop the ax on some necks around here. What he did, the old meat-head, was to discontinue our department. He is giving me a chance to start over again at the bottom as a stock boy and he said he is willing to do the same for you, if you are not too proud to take an 80 per cent cut in pay. Everybody here is sick about this. Hope you are having a good time because there's no fun here.

Clovis

Dear Folks: Mandy and I are taking good care of the place, as we promised we would, and trying to keep the children from doing too much damage. But I want to know if you think $13.85 is too much to pay for a window. I recall that when I was young the same kind of window used to cost only $3 and something when I put a baseball through it. Also, Mandy and I want to know if those little green bugs are supposed to be on the roses. We don't think they are good for them. Except for the fact the water heater seems to have gone on the fritz everything here is fine and dandy.

Chet

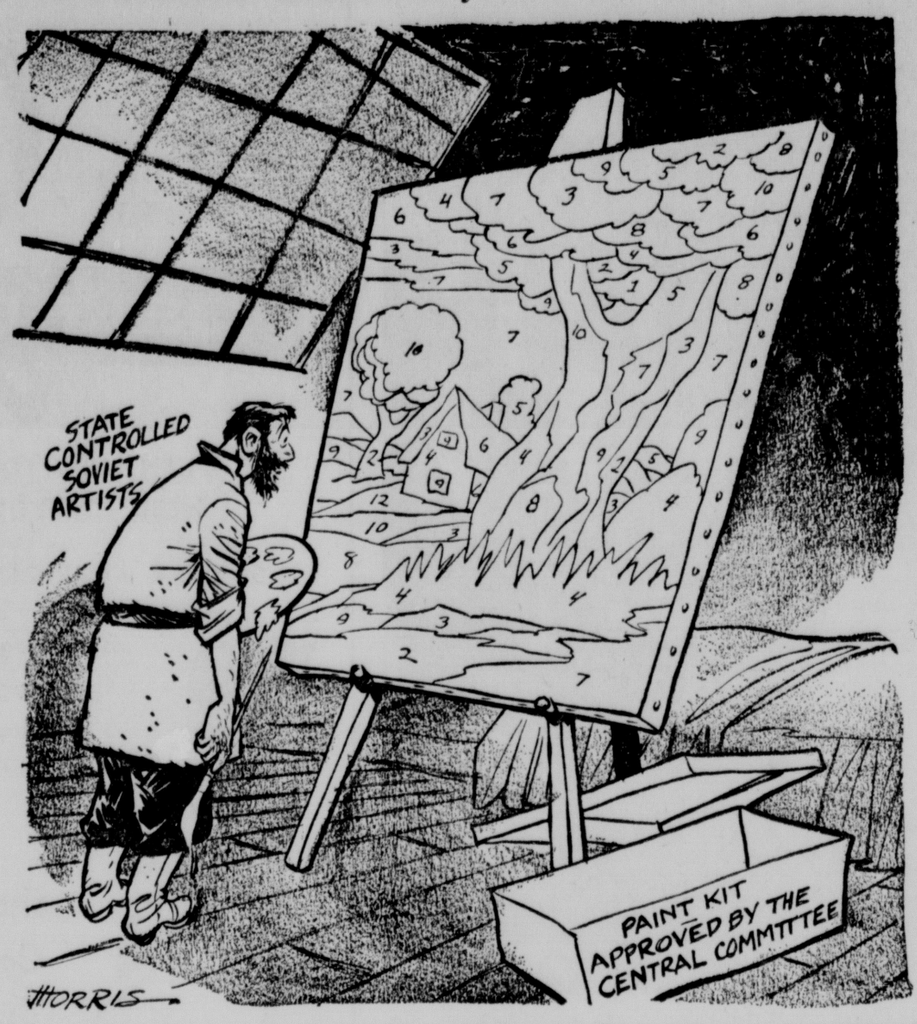

Dear John: When you said that last night you wanted me to write to you every day, little did I dream I would have to tell you about meeting the nicest boy I ever met. He is very wealthy, very handsome, with two foreign sports cars and a cabin cruiser. He told me 15 minutes after we met that he wondered where I had been all his life, except he meant it—and 24 hours later he had given me a ring big enough to choke a cat. My mommy and poppy like him very much and we are going to be married. I hope this will not spoil your vacation. There are other fish in the sea, after all. Thanks for all the good times we used to have together before I met Ronnie.

Lindy

Dear Wife: Your idea that I should take this vacation by myself at home while you took the kids and new baby to visit in your old home town is working swell. I have been to a different place for dinner every night, except two nights in succession I was invited to share pot luck with that grass widow you think is on the prowl. You are wrong. She is not on the prowl. She is a real homebody and we listened to sterophonic sound together until 2 a.m. the other morning. Do not be in a hustle about getting back because everything is going very smoothly here, though I miss the kids. How are they?

Reuther To Meet With Labor Figures

By Victor Riesel

A group of men from two continents, who may someday have the political power to reshape policies of many governments, will meet quietly at an estate called Harpsund, six miles from Flen, 90 miles southwest of Stockholm, Sweden.

Victor Riesel

That's the new summer residence of the Social Democratic prime minister, Tage Erlander. He has invited the group of friends, among whom is auto and aerospace union leader Walter Reuther, to meet with him there on the morning of July 13.

Reuther is one of two Americans asked by the prime minister to this intercontinental private discussion. The other is Sen. Hubert Humphrey. He will fly in and out if he feels that he can leave the turbulent Senate in mid-July.

Virtually all of the guests have one fascinating thing in common: They are men whose influence springs from the labor movements of their lands — influence which in some instances may make them the heads of state in a few years.

AMONG THESE are Harold Wilson, British Labor party leader, now attempting to topple the Macmillan government and Erich Ollenhauer, leader of the West German Social Democratic party, which has as its base the powerful "DGB" — the German labor federation. The federation could well elect either Ollenhauer or West Berlin's mayor Willy Brandt to the Chancellorship in the next election or so.

Another guest will be Arne Geijer, president of the Confederation of Swedish Trade Unions, who is expected to succeed his host as Swedish prime minister some day.

Officially the word from the prime minister is that the group will informally discuss full employment and the promotion of economic progress in all countries.

Undoubtedly there will be more than a discussion of how to put job less men and women to work. Each of these men is a realist and has long championed labor's political action.

But the Social Democrats of Europe, especially Britain's Harold Wilson, respect Reuther as the symbol of labor's political action in the United States. Reuther respects the others and in fact needs them as allies on labor's industrial front — which more and more is becoming international.

THOUGH IT'S not reported much in our country, Reuther has been intensely active in the building and strengthening of international labor organizations on a global industry-wide basis.

This he has done by bolstering what is known as the International Metalworkers Federation (IMF) whose headquarters are in Geneva.

Through the efforts of Walter Reuther, who heads the IMF worldwide automotive division and his brother Victor, it has now become active in Asia as well as Latin America.

By linking up with "metalworkers" unions abroad, Reuther hopes to "coordinate collective bargaining" across the world.

There has not yet been talk of this resulting in international strikes against major auto companies.

Not too long ago Reuther told an IMF Congress that, "Where we can exert practical trade union solidarity to support the collective bargaining struggle of any given group, we will try to achieve that practical solidarity."

Reuther did not explain what form this practical solidarity could take. But during the recent French coal miners' strike his union contributed $25,000 to the coal diggers. Obviously this could be done for striking auto or steel workers the world over.

This international activity should be coupled with political action in each country, Reuther advised, so the unions could have impact on the social policies of their countries.

REUTHER'S LEAD has been followed by his colleague James Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

In late May and in early June, Carey spent weeks in England conferring with the counterparts of his own organization. These were the British Electrical Trades Union and the Amalgamated Engineering Union. He was there with his Education and International Relations Director, Ben Segal. They, too, discussed mutual support and eventual exchange of technical experts.

This trip came not long after Segal and Victor Reuther, the auto union's international relations director, participated in a Latin American Metalworkers Federation conference in Santos, Brazil. One section of the conference there was made up of union delegates from General Electric Co. plants in Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Uruguay, Mexico, the United States and Canada.

Almost unnoticed, this is the trend. International labor coordination is developing not only on the land, but on the sea, on the waterfront, in the oil industry and soon it will be apparent at the national convention of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, now that there is Telstar.

And Reuther is in the forefront of the movement. Having prime ministers and presidents as allies won't hurt it at all.

Today is Thursday, June 27th, the 178th day of 1963. There are 187 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, the first Army execution in U.S. history was carried out when Thomas Hickey was put to death in New York. Hickey was a guard who plotted to capture George Washington and deliver him to British Gen. William Howe.

On this date

In 1652, an anti-speeding ordinance applying to wagons, carts and sleighs was passed by New York City lawmakers.

In 1863, York, Pa., surrendered to Confederate Gen. Jubal Early who demanded $100,000 and supplies.

In 1939, heavyweight champion Joe Louis kayoed challenger Tony Galento in the fourth round of their title bout.

In 1942, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrest of eight trained Nazi saboteurs alleged to have been landed by Axis submarines at points on Long Island, New York and Florida.

In 1950, Lt. Col. James Little of Wyoming knocked down a Chinese Communist plane in firing the first aerial shot of the Korean War.

Kennedy's Gamble

By David Lawrence

Anti-Discrimination Move Could Hurt

President Kennedy may be coming to a turning point in his political career. It could cost him reelection in 1964.

David Lawrence

Any issue that touches the home or the pocketbook or the job of a citizen takes precedence over all other questions. No matter what an administration has accomplished in other fields, the voter tends to register a negative verdict if a grievance directly affects his economic future.

The Kennedy administration has opened up a Pandora's Box of trouble for itself. An executive order—which isn't based on a single law passed by Congress—has just been issued requiring that a virtual discrimination against white workers be imposed as a means of removing discrimination against Negro workers.

The new order not only applies to all businessmen having contracts with the government for goods or services but extends to contractors for any construction in which federal funds are in any way involved and to every subcontractor with whom they do business and every company from which they buy raw materials or other products.

It's perhaps the most sweeping decree ever issued by any American president without authority given him by Congress or the Constitution.

It involves tens of billions of dollars of business transactions which the government carries on every year by contract or through its programs of loans, grants or insurance of funds for construction of buildings, repairs and alterations, as well as the creation of new highways and repairing old ones.

THE POLITICAL effect of this will not be felt for several months, but—judging by letters received from different parts of the country—it will produce one of the most deep-seated antagonisms known in American politics.

Already a protest is being raised by the white worker who fears he will be displaced at his job, though the order hasn't yet taken effect. But even before its issuance, Negro leaders were demanding that a certain quota of Negroes be hired—they are asking for 25 per cent of the work force on all jobs let by New York City to private contractors.

This has raised fears that the merit system will be brushed aside by compulsion and that the number of unemployed whites will materially increase.

The President's edict reads in part as follows:

"The contractor will take such action with respect to any subcontract or purchase order as the contracting agency may direct as a means of enforcing such provisions, including sanctions for noncompliance."

This includes government supervision of "employment, upgrading, demotion or transfer," as well as "layoff or termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation."

The government order says exemptions will be made but doesn't explain exactly under what circumstances, thus leaving the impression that the purpose of the executive order is to intimidate all employers.

The net effect also will be to frighten white employes about their jobs, and that's where the political impact will begin to spread throughout the country.

It's already disturbing many persons directly employed in government departments, such as the Post Office. A politically motivated employment system cannot succeed even with the best intentions and supposedly high purpose.

Perhaps the most powerful negative force that has been unleashed thus far is in connection with the efforts of governments of Northern states, like New York, to deny to all white children the right to go to schools which are attended only by students from their immediate neighborhoods.

THIS MAY require that quotas of both white and Negro children be transferred considerable distances by bus so as to eliminate "racially imbalanced" schools—defined by the commissioner of education of New York State as schools in which the enrollment is more than 50 per cent Negro.

Already students from the Negro schools in New York City are being moved into predominantly white schools. It's being urged that white children be similarly moved to schools in Negro neighborhoods. All this is allegedly an effort to provide better education for the Negro children.

So if the handling of the school problem causes aggravation among white citizens and if there is an uneasiness among workers as to their future employment, there will doubtless be in the 1964 campaign an exodus of white voters from the Democratic party in the populous Northern states which have hitherto voted so regularly for that party.

Any gain in the Negro vote—which, ever since the relief subsidies of the 1930s, has moved over in large part to the Democratic party — would hardly offset now the loss of white voters.

So it isn't just in the South where the Kennedy administration today is in political trouble. The mass demonstrations have by no means helped the situation for the President.

MANY SUCH protest parades have been held in the North, where widely publicized heretofore, has for the last few years been increasing due to the influx of Negroes in large numbers from the South.

The Kennedy administration, which has been making a direct bid for Negro votes by responding to the demands of Negro leaders, will soon try to find ways to appease the white vote but the effect of what has already happened can hardly be minimized, and that's why the outlook for the 1964 election contest has suddenly changed from what seemed a certainty to a big uncertainty for the administration.

Faculties Below Par

By Joseph Michalak

A larger and larger number of American youth face a "second-rate" college education.

That's the prediction of a new research study published by the National Education Association. The reason: College officials, faced with growing salary competition from business, industry and government, "will have to concede the necessity for accepting a lower quality of teaching performance."

The biennial study "Teacher Supply and Demand in Universities, Colleges and Junior Colleges," indicates that the resources of higher education are already not equal to the task that "only they can perform."

"If they continue to be priced out of the market — as is now the case on many campuses," the report asserts, "the tragic result is clear—the quality of their educational service will deteriorate at the very moment it should be further strengthened."

The NEA bases its scarier-than-thou attitude on a mass of statistics assertedly showing that the academic preparation of new teachers is on a 10-year trend downward.

High among factors contributing to the rank of a college or university is the percentage of its staff holding the doctorate degrees. Since 1953, the report notes, the percentage of new teachers with the degrees has declined with slight jumps here and there — from 314 per cent to 25.4 per cent during the current school year.

Actually, Ray C. Maul, assistant director of the NEA's research who produced the report, admits that the purely statistical data are inconclusive on the question of whether the quality of instruction is being maintained.

For one thing, the bare number of doctorate holders among new teachers — 3,092—was at a record high this year. The same was true of the number—2,479—as well as the percentage—20.3—of holders of master's degree, plus at least one extra year's of study.

At the same time, the proportion of new teachers with less than a master's degree was at the lowest point since the surveys began in 1953.

Yet, the date, Dr. Maul insists, "would seem to point to a watering down in the preparation of the complete staff through the year-by-year induction of groups of new teachers with lower average levels of preparation." This problem, says Dr. Maul, will be compounded as the need for highly trained personnel will multiply in the middle of the decade as the population explosion starts hitting the campuses in earnest.

The greatest concentration is in mathematics, which is the field about which administrators indicated the greatest fear of shortages in the future.

Another guest will be Arne Geijer, president of the Confederation of Swedish Trade Unions, who is expected to succeed his host as Swedish prime minister some day.

Officially the word from the prime minister is that the group will informally discuss full employment and the promotion of economic progress in all countries.

Undoubtedly there will be more than a discussion of how to put job less men and women to work. Each of these men is a realist and has long championed labor's political action.

But the Social Democrats of Europe, especially Britain's Harold Wilson, respect Reuther as the symbol of labor's political action in the United States. Reuther respects the others and in fact needs them as allies on labor's industrial front — which more and more is becoming international.

THOUGH IT'S not reported much in our country, Reuther has been intensely active in the building and strengthening of international labor organizations on a global industry-wide basis.

This he has done by bolstering what is known as the International Metalworkers Federation (IMF) whose headquarters are in Geneva.

Through the efforts of Walter Reuther, who heads the IMF worldwide automotive division and his brother Victor, it has now become active in Asia as well as Latin America.

By linking up with "metalworkers" unions abroad, Reuther hopes to "coordinate collective bargaining" across the world.

There has not yet been talk of this resulting in international strikes against major auto companies.

Not too long ago Reuther told an IMF Congress that, "Where we can exert practical trade union solidarity to support the collective bargaining struggle of any given group, we will try to achieve that practical solidarity."

Reuther did not explain what form this practical solidarity could take. But during the recent French coal miners' strike his union contributed $25,000 to the coal diggers. Obviously this could be done for striking auto or steel workers the world over.

This international activity should be coupled with political action in each country, Reuther advised, so the unions could have impact on the social policies of their countries.

REUTHER'S LEAD has been followed by his colleague James Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

In late May and in early June, Carey spent weeks in England conferring with the counterparts of his own organization. These were the British Electrical Trades Union and the Amalgamated Engineering Union. He was there with his Education and International Relations Director, Ben Segal. They, too, discussed mutual support and eventual exchange of technical experts.

This trip came not long after Segal and Victor Reuther, the auto union's international relations director, participated in a Latin American Metalworkers Federation conference in Santos, Brazil. One section of the conference there was made up of union delegates from General Electric Co. plants in Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Uruguay, Mexico, the United States and Canada.

Almost unnoticed, this is the trend. International labor coordination is developing not only on the land, but on the sea, on the waterfront, in the oil industry and soon it will be apparent at the national convention of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, now that there is Telstar.

And Reuther is in the forefront of the movement. Having prime ministers and presidents as allies won't hurt it at all.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, June 27th, the 178th day of 1963. There are 187 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, the first Army execution in U.S. history was carried out when Thomas Hickey was put to death in New York. Hickey was a guard who plotted to capture George Washington and deliver him to British Gen. William Howe.

On this date

In 1652, an anti-speeding ordinance applying to wagons, carts and sleighs was passed by New York City lawmakers.

In 1863, York, Pa., surrendered to Confederate Gen. Jubal Early who demanded $100,000 and supplies.

In 1939, heavyweight champion Joe Louis kayoed challenger Tony Galento in the fourth round of their title bout.

In 1942, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrest of eight trained Nazi saboteurs alleged to have been landed by Axis submarines at points on Long Island, New York and Florida.

In 1950, Lt. Col. James Little of Wyoming knocked down a Chinese Communist plane in firing the first aerial shot of the Korean War.

Kennedy's Gamble

By David Lawrence

Anti-Discrimination Move Could Hurt

President Kennedy may be coming to a turning point in his political career. It could cost him reelection in 1964.

David Lawrence

Any issue that touches the home or the pocketbook or the job of a citizen takes precedence over all other questions. No matter what an administration has accomplished in other fields, the voter tends to register a negative verdict if a grievance directly affects his economic future.

The Kennedy administration has opened up a Pandora's Box of trouble for itself. An executive order—which isn't based on a single law passed by Congress—has just been issued requiring that a virtual discrimination against white workers be imposed as a means of removing discrimination against Negro workers.

The new order not only applies to all businessmen having contracts with the government for goods or services but extends to contractors for any construction in which federal funds are in any way involved and to every subcontractor with whom they do business and every company from which they buy raw materials or other products.

It's perhaps the most sweeping decree ever issued by any American president without authority given him by Congress or the Constitution.

It involves tens of billions of dollars of business transactions which the government carries on every year by contract or through its programs of loans, grants or insurance of funds for construction of buildings, repairs and alterations, as well as the creation of new highways and repairing old ones.

THE POLITICAL effect of this will not be felt for several months, but—judging by letters received from different parts of the country—it will produce one of the most deep-seated antagonisms known in American politics.

Already a protest is being raised by the white worker who fears he will be displaced at his job, though the order hasn't yet taken effect. But even before its issuance, Negro leaders were demanding that a certain quota of Negroes be hired—they are asking for 25 per cent of the work force on all jobs let by New York City to private contractors.

This has raised fears that the merit system will be brushed aside by compulsion and that the number of unemployed whites will materially increase.

The President's edict reads in part as follows:

"The contractor will take such action with respect to any subcontract or purchase order as the contracting agency may direct as a means of enforcing such provisions, including sanctions for noncompliance."

This includes government supervision of "employment, upgrading, demotion or transfer," as well as "layoff or termination, rates of pay or other forms of compensation."

The government order says exemptions will be made but doesn't explain exactly under what circumstances, thus leaving the impression that the purpose of the executive order is to intimidate all employers.

The net effect also will be to frighten white employes about their jobs, and that's where the political impact will begin to spread throughout the country.

It's already disturbing many persons directly employed in government departments, such as the Post Office. A politically motivated employment system cannot succeed even with the best intentions and supposedly high purpose.

Perhaps the most powerful negative force that has been unleashed thus far is in connection with the efforts of governments of Northern states, like New York, to deny to all white children the right to go to schools which are attended only by students from their immediate neighborhoods.

THIS MAY require that quotas of both white and Negro children be transferred considerable distances by bus so as to eliminate "racially imbalanced" schools—defined by the commissioner of education of New York State as schools in which the enrollment is more than 50 per cent Negro.

Already students from the Negro schools in New York City are being moved into predominantly white schools. It's being urged that white children be similarly moved to schools in Negro neighborhoods. All this is allegedly an effort to provide better education for the Negro children.

So if the handling of the school problem causes aggravation among white citizens and if there is an uneasiness among workers as to their future employment, there will doubtless be in the 1964 campaign an exodus of white voters from the Democratic party in the populous Northern states which have hitherto voted so regularly for that party.

Any gain in the Negro vote—which, ever since the relief subsidies of the 1930s, has moved over in large part to the Democratic party — would hardly offset now the loss of white voters.

So it isn't just in the South where the Kennedy administration today is in political trouble. The mass demonstrations have by no means helped the situation for the President.

MANY SUCH protest parades have been held in the North, where widely publicized heretofore, has for the last few years been increasing due to the influx of Negroes in large numbers from the South.

The Kennedy administration, which has been making a direct bid for Negro votes by responding to the demands of Negro leaders, will soon try to find ways to appease the white vote but the effect of what has already happened can hardly be minimized, and that's why the outlook for the 1964 election contest has suddenly changed from what seemed a certainty to a big uncertainty for the administration.

Faculties Below Par

By Joseph Michalak

A larger and larger number of American youth face a "second-rate" college education.

That's the prediction of a new research study published by the National Education Association. The reason: College officials, faced with growing salary competition from business, industry and government, "will have to concede the necessity for accepting a lower quality of teaching performance."

The biennial study "Teacher Supply and Demand in Universities, Colleges and Junior Colleges," indicates that the resources of higher education are already not equal to the task that "only they can perform."

"If they continue to be priced out of the market — as is now the case on many campuses," the report asserts, "the tragic result is clear—the quality of their educational service will deteriorate at the very moment it should be further strengthened."

The NEA bases its scarier-than-thou attitude on a mass of statistics assertedly showing that the academic preparation of new teachers is on a 10-year trend downward.

High among factors contributing to the rank of a college or university is the percentage of its staff holding the doctorate degrees. Since 1953, the report notes, the percentage of new teachers with the degrees has declined with slight jumps here and there — from 314 per cent to 25.4 per cent during the current school year.

Actually, Ray C. Maul, assistant director of the NEA's research who produced the report, admits that the purely statistical data are inconclusive on the question of whether the quality of instruction is being maintained.

For one thing, the bare number of doctorate holders among new teachers — 3,092—was at a record high this year. The same was true of the number—2,479—as well as the percentage—20.3—of holders of master's degree, plus at least one extra year's of study.

At the same time, the proportion of new teachers with less than a master's degree was at the lowest point since the surveys began in 1953.

Yet, the date, Dr. Maul insists, "would seem to point to a watering down in the preparation of the complete staff through the year-by-year induction of groups of new teachers with lower average levels of preparation." This problem, says Dr. Maul, will be compounded as the need for highly trained personnel will multiply in the middle of the decade as the population explosion starts hitting the campuses in earnest.

The greatest concentration is in mathematics, which is the field about which administrators indicated the greatest fear of shortages in the future.

The St. Clairsville firm's bid calls for surfacing of 20,000 square yards. It bid 33.9 cents per square yards.

Ohio Tar & Asphalt, Inc., of Canton, which held the contract last year, bid 35.6 cents per square yard. The Tri - State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry bid 36.3 cents.

Last year, the city spent $21,000 in its share of the program, surfacing over five miles of streets. Approximately $6,100 has been appropriated out of income tax receipts.

In addition to the amounts that will be paid by property - holders, the city will pay 50 per cent of the householders' costs, plus the cost of intersections.

The cost is down slightly from last year. In 1962, for instance, surfacing of an 18-foot street cost the property - owner 18 cents a lineal foot.

Councilman's Pressure Hit By Trucker

Charles Shaffer, owner of the Shaffer Trucking Co. of Wellsville, said today he is contemplating moving the firm from the city because of "pressure being applied by a councilman".

Shaffer said Councilman Robert Taggart signed a complaint with the State fire marshal's office against allowing the firm to refuel its diesel trucks at the curb on Route 7.

The firm is located in the former W. C. Bunting Co. on Clark Ave., which is part of Route 7 through Wellsville.

Shaffer employes 22 drivers, three mechanics and an office manager. Only one is not from Wellsville. He originally was located in Dover and New Philadelphia. He moved to Wellsville about two years ago and into the Bunting building in April.

Shaffer said complaints also have been registered because of dust created by the trucks using the alley at the rear of the building.

Council granted him permission to cover a ditch next to the building about two months ago. Shaffer said he purchased 60 feet of concrete pipe to do the work but since has been notified by Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare that he shouldn't proceed because Taggart, chairman of the sewer committee, wants his committee to discuss the plan.

The firm hauls for the Sulphur Terminals, Inc., located on the Ohio River near 16th St.

Shaffer said he has a three-year lease on the building but now is investigating locating at Toronto.

2 Auto Fires At Wellsville

Wellsville firemen were called on two auto fires Wednesday evening.

The first was at 5:25 to the home of Lewis Putt, 109 7th St., when a cigarette set fire to the seat of his 1957 sedan.

Twelve men answered the alarm.

At 6:05, firemen were called to 18th St. and Chester Ave. when the motor caught fire in a 1956 station wagon owned by John Lombardozzi, 425 14th St.

It was out on arrival, firemen said. The blaze was caused by a short in the wiring. Ten men responded.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis urged drivers to be more careful of their cigarettes. He said often the lighted cigarette butts are tossed out and if the car is moving, the wind carries them back into the car.

Many cars also are being operated without air cleaners on the carburetor. "This is a bad practice as a backfire can easily set fire to the motor. The cleaner will halt any danger of this and also provides better gas mileage," the chief commented.

Dividend To Pay Cost

Pottery Union Members Due Insurance Increase

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters employed in plants covered by contracts with the U. S. Potters Association are due for increased insurance protection at no additional cost, effective Monday, the IBOP said today.

The IBOP's $90,000 share of dividends that built up in 1960, 1961 and 1962 through "good insurance experience" will be used to provide the additional coverage, E. L. Wheatley, international president, explained.

The Union Labor Life Insurance Co., carrier of the contract between the IBOP and USPA, has announced that a new policy will be issued providing an additional $550 in group life insurance and an equal amount of coverage for accidental death or dismemberment, Wheatley said. The additional coverage is scheduled to remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1965.

The union pointed out that insurance costs now are borne completely by employers. The insurance will apply to all employes who remain active in the plan and to new employes who are enrolled, it added.

The union pointed out that the money built up in the "good experience dividends" and the question of allocating the money was tied up between the USPA and IBOP insurance trust fund committee. Carried into arbitration in August 1962, the question remained without a decision until late last March, it explained.

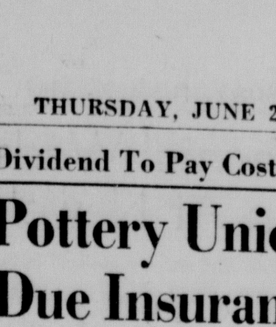

The two groups finally decided to divide the dividend money, amounting to $180,000 in all, the union said.

The union "officials realizing that so many members are very lean on life insurance arranged... to attain the most possible benefits for the money..." the IBOP said.

The money deposited with the insurance company will earn interest at 3½ per cent annually, it added. It said active members now will be protected with $1,550 life insurance or double the amount for accident or dismemberment under the "IBOP-USPA active policy participation."

The additional coverage also will be afforded to international officers, the union's office force and employes of The Potters Herald, the official newspaper.

Cuts Research Fund

how to make the meter system more efficient.

A discussion was held on the possibility of employing a meter attendant and hiring a handicapped person to handle the clerical work in the office.

This would relieve the police of the responsibility of policing the meters, collecting money from the fine boxes, keeping records of the tickets and collecting the fines, the mayor said.

This would allow the deskman on the police force to get out of the office and onto a beat, he commented. "We have reached the point where it costs as much to police the system as is being received in revenue," he said.

The policing alone costs the city $5,140 a year, just for covering the meters from 3rd to 6th St. on Main. Add to this the 12th to 14th St. area, the time needed to collect the money from the boxes and the time consumed in bookkeeping, and the cost rises to $7,500 to $8,000 per year.

The city also pays $200 a month for maintenance and the entire system costs in excess of $10,000. All this should be charged to the meter system, but it is not, the mayor said.

Only $3,000 from the meter revenue is used to pay for the police salary.

The mayor said if the change is made, it wouldn't "make sense to relieve the police of the duties and then add another person to the force."

He said the extra money from the police levy, now being used as a salary, could be used to pay extra men to ride in the cruiser at night. Two men are used on three nights out of each week.

The FOP has heard of the plan and is questioning the legality of using money from the police levy to pay for meter attendants, the mayor said.

"They are correct, it wouldn't be legal, but the money will come from the meter revenue and not from the police levy," he commented, again pointing out that $3,000 from the meters is now used to pay part of the salary of an officer.

The plan in effect would strengthen each department while cutting expenses, the mayor said.

Dividend To Pay Cost

Pottery Union Members Due Insurance Increase

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters employed in plants covered by contracts with the U. S. Potters Association are due for increased insurance protection at no additional cost, effective Monday, the IBOP said today.

The IBOP's $90,000 share of dividends that built up in 1960, 1961 and 1962 through "good insurance experience" will be used to provide the additional coverage, E. L. Wheatley, international president, explained.

The Union Labor Life Insurance Co., carrier of the contract between the IBOP and USPA, has announced that a new policy will be issued providing an additional $550 in group life insurance and an equal amount of coverage for accidental death or dismemberment, Wheatley said. The additional coverage is scheduled to remain in effect through Dec. 31, 1965.

The union pointed out that insurance costs now are borne completely by employers. The insurance will apply to all employes who remain active in the plan and to new employes who are enrolled, it added.

The union pointed out that the money built up in the "good experience dividends" and the question of allocating the money was tied up between the USPA and IBOP insurance trust fund committee. Carried into arbitration in August 1962, the question remained without a decision until late last March, it explained.

The two groups finally decided to divide the dividend money, amounting to $180,000 in all, the union said.

The union "officials realizing that so many members are very lean on life insurance arranged. . . to attain the most possible benefits for the money. . ." the IBOP said.

The money deposited with the insurance company will earn interest at 3½ per cent annually, it added. It said active members now will be protected with $1,550 life insurance or double the amount for accident or dismemberment under the "IBOP-USPA active policy participation."

The additional coverage also will be afforded to international officers, the union's office force and employes of The Potters Herald, the official newspaper.

4 Hurt In 2 Road Mishaps

Four were injured in two accidents investigated Wednesday by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Michael Michalak, 25, of Bethel, Ohio, was hurt when his car slammed into a tree on Route 46 a mile north of New Waterford last night at 8:30.

Michalak was headed south when he lost control on a curve and went off the right side. The car swerved and crossed the highway diagonally and hit the tree, officers said.

Michalak was treated at Salem City Hospital for lacerations of the left knee and chin, possible fractures of the ribs and abrasions and contusions of the body. He was cited for reckless operation.

Two were hurt in a two-car crash at the junction of Routes 6 and 558 at Peace Valley.

Officers said a car driven by Frank P. Quetot, 33, of Rogers was hit in the rear by one driven by Floyd Fonner, 44, of Sebring. Quetot was traveling northwest on Route 46 when he halted for a traffic sign at the intersection.

Quetot complained of back injuries. Fonner suffered abrasions of the forehead and left leg while a passenger in his car, Kenneth Wilt of Sebring, suffered a bruised chin.

Fonner was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overweight Young Mother Asks For Help

"Is it true that some people eat whenever they are nervous or upset?" This question was asked by a young mother whose poignant letter describes her frustration. With complete honesty she writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"The days are so long and the children so frustrating—I just can't seem to get a grip on myself. I eat constantly. I put away tremendous amounts of food and now I am accustomed to a lot of food and find it hard to cut down. And I just love sweets. My 3-year-old is turning into a fatty, too."

Food is comforting, and handy. You eat to take your mind off troubles, to assuage vague feelings of discontent and to keep from building up tension. But this incessant turning to food becomes a habit. You recognize that overeating is in large part the result of lack of stimulation in your daily life.

SUMMER IS the perfect time to break the habit pattern. Could you take the children to the park each day? Why not swing the younger ones. It's wonderful exercise for you, and can take up the slack in the upper arms beautifully. Pushing against resistance is made to order for toning bust supporting muscles.

On the nutrition score: Make an honest effort to go against the established pattern at some one point. So many of you write that you start your day not eating, and end the day overeating.

One young mother who succeeded in losing 44 excess pounds, credits two factors: a new start to her day and putting order into her day. Here's her plan: Instead of snatching a bite while the family has breakfast, she waits until "rush hour" is over.

Then she prepares a good meal —fruit juice, an egg, sometimes lean bacon, a slice of toast with a treat of low calorie jelly and hot coffee. She relaxes with the paper and enjoys breakfast and her morning respite.

This young mother follows the same general plan at lunch. After the children have been fed and tucked in bed for their nap, she has her lunch. She likes to eat lunch on a tray in one or another of her favorite places in the house . . .and allocates one whole hour to enjoy peace and quiet as she eats lunch, reads, and relaxes.

TO DEAL with incessant eating and overeating at meals, take advantage of purposeful snacks. Have a protein pickup in the late morning, a glass of skim milk or a half-ounce wedge of cheese and eat this prior to fixing lunch for the children. Have another pick-up in the late afternoon, before dinner-time preparations. Plan each meal around a protein food and switch to fresh fruit in place of sweets.

Put order in your day, and you'll find you can cope. And know for sure that winning against great odds makes your triumph wondrous sweet.

operating a car without a license, MacDonald was ordered to pay the $7.50 costs. He pleaded "no contest" on the revised charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Found guilty after a hearing, he was fined $25 and costs. MacDonald initially had pleaded not guilty to the charge of passing on the right.

Camerlin told police he was making a right turn from E. 3rd St. to Walnut St. when MacDonald attempted to pass him on the right, striking the right door of the local auto.

MacDonald told police he was headed east on E. 3rd St. and saw that Camerlin "was going real slow and thought he was going to turn left." MacDonald said he then started to go around Camerlin's car on the right "and he turned right and hit me." MacDonald's car left 45 feet of skid marks, officers said.

Patrolmen Karl Samples and Paul Blevins investigated.

Police also filed a report Wednesday on another mishap Tuesday that damaged a metal pole on property of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, 1032 Pennsylvania Ave. Police said the pole was hit by a 1958 model convertible registered in the name of William Smith Jr., 311 Woodlane Ave.

Officers said the right front fender of the auto was damaged. It carried a temporary plate which has expired, officers said. Police said the driver left the scene after striking the pole, but the auto was located yesterday morning.

3 In Road Shed Fires Penalized

BEAVER — Robert Basalyga of Harmony Township, James Robert Fraser of Freedom and James M. Buffington of Rochester, charged with arson in the burning of tool sheds of the Pennsylvania Highway Department during a labor dispute last April, were sentenced to jail Wednesday in Beaver County Court by Judges Robert E. McCreary and Morgan H. Sohn, along with penalties.

The men were required to pay the costs, fined a nominal amount, ordered to make restitution and to serve 11½ to 23 months in the Beaver County Jail.

Fraser and Buffington were involved in the burning of a tool shed near Bradys Run Park in Brighton Township, while Basalyga was charged with the burning of a tool shed in Harmony Township.

The property value of each shed was placed at $200 and the contents at $200. The arson occurred during a labor dispute involving county employes of the State Highway Dpartment.

Patrol Urges Safety In Travel On Holiday

Sgt. E. W. Mallery, commanding officer of the Lisbon State Highway Patrol post, today urged motorists to drive with redoubled vigilance when traveling on the July 4th holiday, pointing out 24 met death on Ohio's streets and highway in Memorial Day traffic.

Motorists failing to yield the right-of-way and pedestrians entering the path of moving traffic were the major causes of the deaths, Sgt. Mallery said.

"In spite of the fact we will be using all available resources to make this a safe holiday, we know this will not be enough," Sgt. Mallery said. "Drivers must shoulder the responsibility of being prepared to meet any situation skillfully. Vigilance should be your byword."

Young Motorist Fined For Reckless Driving

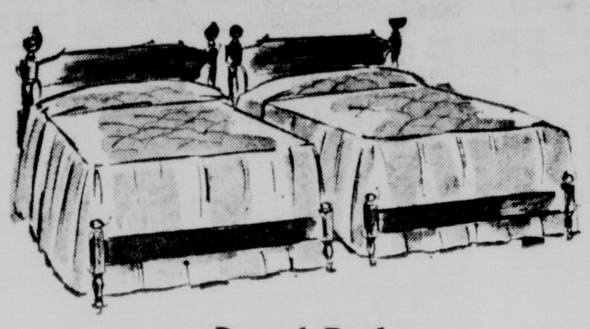

A youthful Vine St. motorist was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge filed after his arrest early this morning.

James M. Wilson, 1035 Vine St., was cited at 1:06 a. m. on Jackson St. by Patrolman Paul Carter. The officer charged that Wilson drove north on Jackson St. from W. 4th St. "at a high rate of speed, 'peeling' his tires" and "peeled" his tires again between W. 5th and W. 6th Sts.

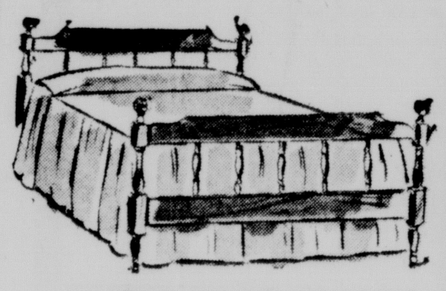

"This is a good way to lose your driver's license," Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told Wilson. "You had better change your driving habits."

Jockey Robert Lee Baird, 42, rode his first winner in 1938 and has compiled more than 2,300 victories.

4 Hurt In 2 Road Mishaps

Four were injured in two accidents investigated Wednesday by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Michael Michalak, 25, of Bethel, Ohio, was hurt when his car slammed into a tree on Route 46 a mile north of New Waterford last night at 8:30.

Michalak was headed south when he lost control on a curve and went off the right side. The car swerved and crossed the highway diagonally and hit the tree, officers said.

Michalak was treated at Salem City Hospital for lacerations of the left knee and chin, possible fractures of the ribs and abrasions and contusions of the body. He was cited for reckless operation.

Two were hurt in a two-car crash at the junction of Routes 6 and 558 at Peace Valley.

Officers said a car driven by Frank P. Quetot, 33, of Rogers was hit in the rear by one driven by Floyd Fonner, 44, of Sebring. Quetot was traveling northwest on Route 46 when he halted for a traffic sign at the intersection.

Quetot complained of back injuries. Fonner suffered abrasions of the forehead and left leg while a passenger in his car, Kenneth Wilt of Sebring, suffered a bruised chin.

Fonner was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Overweight Young Mother Asks For Help

"Is it true that some people eat whenever they are nervous or upset?" This question was asked by a young mother whose poignant letter describes her frustration. With complete honesty she writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"The days are so long and the children so frustrating—I just can't seem to get a grip on myself. I eat constantly. I put away tremendous amounts of food and now I am accustomed to a lot of food and find it hard to cut down. And I just love sweets. My 3-year-old is turning into a fatty, too."

Food is comforting, and handy. You eat to take your mind off troubles, to assuage vague feelings of discontent and to keep from building up tension. But this incessant turning to food becomes a habit. You recognize that overeating is in large part the result of lack of stimulation in your daily life.

—:—

SUMMER IS the perfect time to break the habit pattern. Could you take the children to the park each day? Why not swing the younger ones. It's wonderful exercise for you, and can take up the slack in the upper arms beautifully. Pushing against resistance is made to order for toning bust supporting muscles.

On the nutrition score: Make an honest effort to go against the established pattern at some one point. So many of you write that you start your day not eating, and end the day overeating.

One young mother who succeeded in losing 44 excess pounds, credits two factors: a new start to her day and putting order into her day. Here's her plan: Instead of snatching a bite while the family has breakfast, she waits until "rush hour" is over.

Then she prepares a good meal —fruit juice, an egg, sometimes lean bacon, a slice of toast with a treat of low calorie jelly and hot coffee. She relaxes with the paper and enjoys breakfast and her morning respite.

This young mother follows the same general plan at lunch. After the children have been fed and tucked in bed for their nap, she has her lunch. She likes to eat lunch on a tray in one or another of her favorite places in the house . . .and allocates one whole hour to enjoy peace and quiet as she eats lunch, reads, and relaxes.

TO DEAL with incessant eating and overeating at meals, take advantage of purposeful snacks. Have a protein pickup in the late morning, a glass of skim milk or a half-ounce wedge of cheese and eat this prior to fixing lunch for the children. Have another pick-up in the late afternoon, before dinner-time preparations. Plan each meal around a protein food and switch to fresh fruit in place of sweets.

Put order in your day, and you'll find you can cope. And know for sure that winning against great odds makes your triumph wondrous sweet.

Cards Win On James' Hit

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Junior Gilliam is a 34-year-old infielder who sometimes is called old. Ron Perranoski is a relief pitcher who sometimes is called busy.

The Cincinnati Reds, however, are more likely to call them other things.

Gilliam has beaten them with run-scoring eighth inning doubles for two nights in a row and Perranoski has finished two of the last three games, all of which Cincinnati has lost. Gilliam and Perranoski provided the key for the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 triumph over the Reds Wednesday night, completing a sweep of the three-game set and running the Dodgers' string to four.

It kept the second-place Dodgers a half game off the pace set by St. Louis and dropped the fourth-place Reds three games behind.

The Cards maintained their narrow hold on the top spot with a 6-5 decision over San Francisco, dropping the Giants 1½ games behind. Hapless Houston ended a 10-game losing string, scoring five runs in the 13th inning and beating Milwaukee 7-2. Tim Harkness' grand slam homer with two out in the 14th brought the New York Mets an 8-6 triumph over Chicago and Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 6-2.

Charley James cracked a bases-loaded single over San Francisco drawn-in outfield for the Cardinals' tie-breaking run in the ninth. Ken Boyer drove in four Cardinal runs with a single and three-run homer while Orlando Cepeda hit his 15th homer for the Giants.

Houston had scored only six runs in losing 10 straight. Bob Lillis singled in a run, Johnny Temple doubled in two more, another scored on an error and still another on a wild pitch. Hal Woodeshick, 7-3, won it with six innings of shutout relief pitching.

Harkness slamed a two-out 3-2 pitch by Jim Brewer into the lower right field stands in the 14th inning for his first grand slammer. The Cubs appeared to have put it out of reach on Billy Williams' two-run homer in the top of the inning.

The Pirates let in an unearned run in the fourth, which proved to be the winner, and the Phillies added three more in a wild eight. One came in while a Pirate infielder argued with an umpire and another when a throw for a force play hit a Phillie runner.

Twins Win On Homers; Tribe Falls

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down in the second division since early May and overlooked in the American League pennant scramble, the Los Angeles Angels found themselves in fifth place today after sweeping a twi-night doubleheader from Baltimore 3-1 and 3-2 Wednesday.

The Angels, third in last year's pennant chase, climbed from seventh place and dropped the slumping Orioles into sixth on strong pitching by newly acquired Paul Foytack and ace Ken McBride.

Making his first start since he was acquired from Detroit — and his first since last Sept. 12 — Foytack allowed three hits before tiring in the ninth and came away with the victory on Julio Navarro's relief help.

McBride won his sixth straight with a three-hitter in the nightcap as the Angels posted their ninth victory in 12 games and handed the Orioles their 22nd defeat in 30 games.

The first-place New York Yankees moved one game in front of second-place Chicago by beating the White Sox 3-2 on home runs by Tom Tresh and Roger Maris. It was the Yankees first victory in five games with the Chicagoans this season.

Minnesota used two homers by Bob Allison and one by Earl Battey to subdue Detroit 6-1. Boston edged Cleveland 6-5 on a ninth inning homer by Ed Bressoud, his second of the game. The Washington at Kansas City game was rained out.

Tresh's 12th homer and Maris' 16th gave Whitey Ford an imposing 11-3 record. Ford wilted in 90-degree heat and needed Hal Reniff's help in the seventh. The Yankees moved ahead to stay in the fourth inning on a double by Tresh and Elston Howard's single off loser Gary Peters, 4-4.

Home run leader Allison hit Nos. 18 and 19 and now has a league-leading 52 runs batted in while Battey connected for his 16th homer and brought his RBI total to 43. Vic Power's bases-loaded single in the seventh cracked a 1-1 tie and brought Dick Stigman, 6-7, the victory with Bill Dailey's relief aid. Bill Faul, 3-3 took the loss.

The Red Sox made it four in a row over the Indians when Bressoud connected off Pedro Ramos, 3-2, in the ninth after Cleveland had tied the score in the top of the inning on a pinch-hit, two-run homer by Joe Adcock. All Boston's runs came on homers with Russ Nixon and Chuck Schilling also connecting. Jack Lamabe, working in relief, was the winner for a 4-0 record.

Americans To Meet At Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the United States' top hope of taking the Wimbledon tennis championship, runs into a confident, determined countryman in third round play today.

"Let him come," said 19-year-old Arthue Ashe of Richmond, Va., the first American Negro man ever to play in the historic championships.

"If I play well, I'm capable of beating anybody," Ashe said.

Ashe and McKinley were among five American men who survived second round play Wednesday, but dark horse hope Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., fell before veteran Ramanathan Krishnan of India.

Krishnan, twice a Wimbledon semifinalist and long-time Davis Cup star, beat the 20-year-old unseeded Ralston 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 12-10.

McKinley, top-ranked in the United States and the only seeded American at Wimbledon, continued to show sometimes brilliant, sometimes indifferent play. McKinley, seeded fourth, whipped past Alan Lane of Australia 7-5, 6-4, 8-6.

Ashe showed a wide variety of shots in a 3½ hour, rain-interrupted 5-7, 7-5, 11-9, 3-6, 6-3 triumph over John Hillebrand of Australia.

Tom Edlefsen, Berkeley, Calif.; Jack Frost, Monterey, Calif.; and Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., were the other U.S. men safely into the third round.

Herbie Flam, Palm Springs, Calif., and Adrian Bey of Rhodesia were tied after four sets and each had eight games in the fifth set when darkness halted their second round marathon Wednesday.

Seven American girls out of the 13 who started are still in contention. They are Tory Fretz of Harrisburg, Pa.; Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif.; Carl Hanks, St. Louis; Carole Caldwell, Santa Monica, Calif.; Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales, New York.; Billie Jean Moffitt, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of the Canal Zone.

Reed Has 16 Strikeouts In Jr. Loop

Vic Reed struck out 16 batters and Bob Mayes had a three-for-four night including a home run in Lawrenceville's 7-3 win over Hanover in a South Side Junior Hot Stove League game Wednesday.

Reed only gave up two hits while his teammates collected eight safeties.

In another contest, Newell blasted Hookstown, 23-6, on a three - hitter by Foltz. The Newell hurler also smacked a home run as did Enochs while Whittington collected two hits. Anderson was the losing hurler.

Frankfort posted a 24-13 win over Georgetown as Smith, Cox and Stevens belted home runs. Stevens was the winning hurler with Finley the losers.

Shroades Hurls 1-Hit Game, Faces Only 22

Mike Shroades was the winning pitcher for Lawrenceville over Hookstown Tuesay night in a South Side Senior Hot Stove League game but was not given proper recognition for his outstanding mound performance.

Shroades only faced 22 batters out of a possible 21 and hurled a one-hitter. He had 11 strikeouts during the contest.

Amvits Move To Second In Chester Loop

The Amvits pulled right into contention in the Chester City Softball League by administering a 3-1 defeat to the Chester Merchants Wednesday night at City Park.

John Clendenning hurled four-hit ball for the winners and fanned six batters, Bob Williams was the losing hurler.

In the hitting department, John Eckstein swung the heavy bat with a home run, triple and double and Bob Swogger added two hits.

The victory gives the Amvits a 7-2 mark pushing them into a tie for second place with East End. New Cumberland is a half game in first with a 7-1 mark.

Bo Belinsky's Move Surprises LA Boss

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Reports that Bo Belinsky has decided to report to the Los Angeles Angels' farm club in Hawaii came as a surprise to Angel General Manager Fred Haney.

"Belinsky hasn't been in touch with us," said Haney, who pointed out that the southpaw cannot play with any professional baseball team until and unless he gets permission from Los Angeles.

Belinsky was suspended by the Angels when he refused to report May 24 to Honolulu after posting a disappointing 1-7 record for Los Angeles.

Each AFL Club Due Private Investigator

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The American Football League says each of its eight teams will have a private investigator starting this season.

The measure apparently was a reaction to betting scandals that rocked the rival National Football League this year and brought the suspension of Green Bay's Paul Hornung and Alex Karras of Detroit.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday that the teams would complete hiring of investigators or investigative groups by the start of training next month.

John Kobs retired as Michigan State baseball coach after the 1963 campaign.

Cards Win On James' Hit

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Junior Gilliam is a 34-year-old infielder who sometimes is called old. Ron Perranoski is a relief pitcher who sometimes is called busy.

The Cincinnati Reds, however, are more likely to call them other things.

Gilliam has beaten them with run-scoring eighth inning doubles for two nights in a row and Perranoski has finished two of the last three games, all of which Cincinnati has lost. Gilliam and Perranoski provided the key for the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-2 triumph over the Reds Wednesday night, completing a sweep of the three-game set and running the Dodgers' string to four.

It kept the second-place Dodgers a half game off the pace set by St. Louis and dropped the fourth-place Reds three games behind.

The Cards maintained their narrow hold on the top spot with a 6-5 decision over San Francisco, dropping the Giants 1½ games behind. Hapless Houston ended a 10-game losing string, scoring five runs in the 13th inning and beating Milwaukee 7-2. Tim Harkness' grand slam homer with two out in the 14th brought the New York Mets an 8-6 triumph over Chicago and Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 6-2.

Charley James cracked a bases-loaded single over San Francisco drawn-in outfield for the Cardinals' tie-breaking run in the ninth. Ken Boyer drove in four Cardinal runs with a single and three-run homer while Orlando Cepeda hit his 15th homer for the Giants.

Houston had scored only six runs in losing 10 straight. Bob Lillis singled in a run, Johnny Temple doubled in two more, another scored on an error and still another on a wild pitch. Hal Woodeshick, 7-3, won it with six innings of shutout relief pitching.

Harkness slamed a two-out 3-2 pitch by Jim Brewer into the lower right field stands in the 14th inning for his first grand slammer. The Cubs appeared to have put it out of reach on Billy Williams' two-run homer in the top of the inning.

The Pirates let in an unearned run in the fourth, which proved to be the winner, and the Phillies added three more in a wild eight. One came in while a Pirate infielder argued with an umpire and another when a throw for a force play hit a Phillie runner.

2 Cleveland Stars Take Memphis U. Bid

MEMPHIS (AP) — Two highly ranked high school football prospects from Cleveland, Ohio, have accepted scholarships at Memphis State University.

They are Tony Zalokar and Rich Lutsch, who played at St. Joseph's High School, ranked third in the 113-team Cleveland area. Zalokar, an end, was named Cleveland's most valuable player and Lutsch, a lineman, was named to the All-Cleveland team.

Twins Win On Homers; Tribe Falls

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down in the second division since early May and overlooked in the American League pennant scramble, the Los Angeles Angels found themselves in fifth place today after sweeping a twi-night doubleheader from Baltimore 3-1 and 3-2 Wednesday.

The Angels, third in last year's pennant chase, climbed from seventh place and dropped the slumping Orioles into sixth on strong pitching by newly acquired Paul Foytack and ace Ken McBride.

Making his first start since he was acquired from Detroit — and his first since last Sept. 12 — Foytack allowed three hits before tiring in the ninth and came away with the victory on Julio Navarro's relief help.

McBride won his sixth straight with a three-hitter in the nightcap as the Angels posted their ninth victory in 12 games and handed the Orioles their 22nd defeat in 30 games.

The first-place New York Yankees moved one game in front of second-place Chicago by beating the White Sox 3-2 on home runs by Tom Tresh and Roger Maris. It was the Yankees first victory in five games with the Chicagoans this season.

Minnesota used two homers by Bob Allison and one by Earl Battey to subdue Detroit 6-1. Boston edged Cleveland 6-5 on a ninth inning homer by Ed Bressoud, his second of the game. The Washington at Kansas City game was rained out.

Tresh's 12th homer and Maris' 16th gave Whitey Ford an imposing 11-3 record. Ford wilted in 90-degree heat and needed Hal Reniff's help in the seventh. The Yankees moved ahead to stay in the fourth inning on a double by Tresh and Elston Howard's single off loser Gary Peters, 4-4.

Home run leader Allison hit Nos. 18 and 19 and now has a league-leading 52 runs batted in while Battey connected for his 16th homer and brought his RBI total to 43. Vic Power's bases-loaded single in the seventh cracked a 1-1 tie and brought Dick Stigman, 6-7, the victory with Bill Dailey's relief aid. Bill Faul, 3-3 took the loss.

The Red Sox made it four in a row over the Indians when Bressoud connected off Pedro Ramos, 3-2, in the ninth after Cleveland had tied the score in the top of the inning on a pinch-hit, two-run homer by Joe Adcock. All Boston's runs came on homers with Russ Nixon and Chuck Schilling also connecting. Jack Lamabe, working in relief, was the winner for a 4-0 record.

Americans To Meet At Wimbledon

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the United States' top hope of taking the Wimbledon tennis championship, runs into a confident, determined countryman in third round play today.

"Let him come," said 19-year-old Arthue Ashe of Richmond, Va., the first American Negro man ever to play in the historic championships.

"If I play well, I'm capable of beating anybody," Ashe said.

Ashe and McKinley were among five American men who survived second round play Wednesday, but dark horse hope Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., fell before veteran Ramanathan Krishnan of India.

Krishnan, twice a Wimbledon semifinalist and long-time Davis Cup star, beat the 20-year-old unseeded Ralston 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 12-10.

McKinley, top-ranked in the United States and the only seeded American at Wimbledon, continued to show sometimes brilliant, sometimes indifferent play. McKinley, seeded fourth, whipped past Alan Lane of Australia 7-5, 6-4, 8-6.

Ashe showed a wide variety of shots in a 3½ hour, rain-interrupted 5-7, 7-5, 11-9, 3-6, 6-3 triumph over John Hillebrand of Australia.

Tom Edlefsen, Berkeley, Calif.; Jack Frost, Monterey, Calif.; and Frank Froehling, Coral Gables, Fla., were the other U.S. men safely into the third round.

Herbie Flam, Palm Springs, Calif., and Adrian Bey of Rhodesia were tied after four sets and each had eight games in the fifth set when darkness halted their second round marathon Wednesday.

Seven American girls out of the 13 who started are still in contention. They are Tory Fretz of Harrisburg, Pa.; Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif.; Carl Hanks, St. Louis; Carole Caldwell, Santa Monica, Calif.; Mrs. Donna Floyd Fales, New York.; Billie Jean Moffitt, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of the Canal Zone.

Reed Has 16 Strikeouts In Jr. Loop

Vic Reed struck out 16 batters and Bob Mayes had a three-for-four night including a home run in Lawrenceville's 7-3 win over Hanover in a South Side Junior Hot Stove League game Wednesday.

Reed only gave up two hits while his teammates collected eight safeties.

In another contest, Newell blasted Hookstown, 23-6, on a three - hitter by Foltz. The Newell hurler also smacked a home run as did Enochs while Whittington collected two hits. Anderson was the losing hurler.

Frankfort posted a 24-13 win over Georgetown as Smith, Cox and Stevens belted home runs. Stevens was the winning hurler with Finley the losers.

Shroades Hurls 1-Hit Game, Faces Only 22

Mike Shroades was the winning pitcher for Lawrenceville over Hookstown Tuesay night in a South Side Senior Hot Stove League game but was not given proper recognition for his outstanding mound performance.

Shroades only faced 22 batters out of a possible 21 and hurled a one-hitter. He had 11 strikeouts during the contest.

Amvits Move To Second In Chester Loop

The Amvits pulled right into contention in the Chester City Softball League by administering a 3-1 defeat to the Chester Merchants Wednesday night at City Park.

John Clendenning hurled four-hit ball for the winners and fanned six batters, Bob Williams was the losing hurler.

In the hitting department, John Eckstein swung the heavy bat with a home run, triple and double and Bob Swogger added two hits.

The victory gives the Amvits a 7-2 mark pushing them into a tie for second place with East End. New Cumberland is a half game in first with a 7-1 mark.

Golfing's Top Money Event Opens Today At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arnold Palmer, golfdom's big money winner, had a little extra going for him today as he drew a bead on the $22,000 top prize in the 72-hole, four-day, $110,000 Cleveland Open.

Palmer was favored, as usual, as 146 professionals and four amateurs teed off in the year's top money event at Beechmont Country Club's 6,618-yard, par 71 layout.

Back in the early '50's, when he won two Ohio amateur championships, Palmer was stationed here as a Coast Guardsman. He played Beechmont so often that he knows it as well as his home course at Latrobe, Pa.

Cured of the stomach ailment which bothered him in last week's National Open playoff, in which he finished a distant third, Palmer was "hitting 'em a mile" in Wednesday's pro-amateur $10,000 preliminary.

On the 557-yard fifth hole, he was pin high with two wood shots. On the 511-yard sixth, he went over the green with a drive and No. 3 wood. A drive and a 4 iron carried him past the putting surface on the 507-yard 10th. And on the 312-yard 16th, his tee shot wound up on the fringe of the green.

He finished with five birdies and a 67 and then said, "four 67s will win it."

Despite all that fireworks, Palmer's round wasn't the best of the pro-am tour. Masters champion Jack Nicklaus had six birdies and 12 pars and Mason Rudolph seven birdies and one bogey as they tied for the top with 65. Doug Ford was next with 66.

BASEBALL HEROES

BATTING — Tim Harkness, Mets, hit grand slam homer in 14th inning—his fourth hit of game —for 8-6 victory over Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING — Hal Woodeshick, Colts, pitched one-hit relief ball for final six innings in 7-2, 13-inning triumph over Milwaukee that ended Houston's losing streak at 10 games.

Koerber's and East End both posted their second victories in three starts in the Slow Pitch League Wednesday night at Thompson Park.

Osborn Barbers received a good clipping when Koerber's long-balled their opponents in a 22-4 rout. The runaway was featured by six home runs including three by Mel Reed who wound up with a perfect four-for-four night. Harry Huff, Jack (Bomber) Bailey and Don Prentice also unloaded roundtrippers for Koerber's.

7-Run Frame Gives Salem Win Over 374

A seven-run third inning was all Salem needed to nip Post 374 9-8, in a Junior Legion contest, Wednesday at Salem.

Walt Schukert, who started for Post 374 was charged with the loss being the victim of the big third inning by Salem, but Post 374 played shabby baseball in the field, committing eight errors. Salem only had three hits for the evening.

The East Liverpool nine collected six hits including a home run off the bat of Dave Bowersock. Dave Myers collected a double and single for the locals.

Golfing's Top Money Event Opens Today At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arnold Palmer, golfdom's big money winner, had a little extra going for him today as he drew a bead on the $22,000 top prize in the 72-hole, four-day, $110,000 Cleveland Open.

Palmer was favored, as usual, as 146 professionals and four amateurs teed off in the year's top money event at Beechmont Country Club's 6,618-yard, par 71 layout.

Back in the early '50's, when he won two Ohio amateur championships, Palmer was stationed here as a Coast Guardsman. He played Beechmont so often that he knows it as well as his home course at Latrobe, Pa.

Cured of the stomach ailment which bothered him in last week's National Open playoff, in which he finished a distant third, Palmer was "hitting 'em a mile" in Wednesday's pro-amateur $10,000 preliminary.

On the 557-yard fifth hole, he was pin high with two wood shots. On the 511-yard sixth, he went over the green with a drive and No. 3 wood. A drive and a 4 iron carried him past the putting surface on the 507-yard 10th. And on the 312-yard 16th, his tee shot wound up on the fringe of the green.

He finished with five birdies and a 67 and then said, "four 67s will win it."

Despite all that fireworks, Palmer's round wasn't the best of the pro-am tour. Masters champion Jack Nicklaus had six birdies and 12 pars and Mason Rudolph seven birdies and one bogey as they tied for the top with 65. Doug Ford was next with 66.

BASEBALL HEROES

BATTING — Tim Harkness, Mets, hit grand slam homer in 14th inning—his fourth hit of game—for 8-6 victory over Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING — Hal Woodeshick, Colts, pitched one-hit relief ball for final six innings in 7-2, 13-inning triumph over Milwaukee that ended Houston's losing streak at 10 games.

Locke Hurls 1-Hitter In Central's 5-0 Win

Keith Locke came up with a superb pitching performance in hurling Central Service to a 5-0 victory over Riverview in Colt League action Wednesday night.

Locke allowed only one single coming off the bat of Huddleston in nearly pitching a no-hit contest. He had his strikeout ball working as he fanned 13 batters.

Central only came up with three hits off Jerry Vaughn but one was a double by Nick Marchbanks who drove in three runs in the first inning.

Koerber's, East End Win In Slow Pitch

Koerber's and East End both posted their second victories in three starts in the Slow Pitch League Wednesday night at Thompson Park.

Osborn Barbers received a good clipping when Koerber's long-balled their opponents in a 22-4 rout. The runaway was featured by six home runs including three by Mel Reed who wound up with a perfect four-for-four night. Harry Huff, Jack (Bomber) Bailey and Don Prentice also unloaded roundtrippers for Koerber's.

Osborn's defensive forces move in to hold the "Sultan of Swat" Jim George to only two sparse hits.

Mike Wilson had three hits in four trips and John Michels collected two safeties for Osborn's. Bill Lapham was the winning hurler.

Dorsey collected three hits including a home run to lead East End past the Bombers, 8-6. Lacey was the winning hurler, pitching his second victory. The Bombers were paced by Ring, Coy and Johnson all with three hits.

7-Run Frame Gives Salem Win Over 374

A seven-run third inning was all Salem needed to nip Post 374 9-8, in a Junior Legion contest, Wednesday at Salem.

Walt Schukert, who started for Post 374 was charged with the loss being the victim of the big third inning by Salem, but Post 374 played shabby baseball in the field, committing eight errors. Salem only had three hits for the evening.

The East Liverpool nine collected six hits including a home run off the bat of Dave Bowersock. Dave Myers collected a double and single for the locals.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

The fish management section will continue its experimentation with copper sulphate at Lake Guilford in the near future.

It is a known fact that fish move around after the waters have been treated and the catch in the test nets increased considerably.

Definite conclusions have not been determined if this will increase the fish take by the fishermen. That is what they hope to find out. Whether copper sulphate whets their appetites, tickles their tummies, or acts as a pep tonic is not known.

A creel census will be taken for one week before using copper sulphate, followed by another creel census for one week after treatment. At least this has opened a new field in fish management.

FISHING HAS been good at Guilford the past week, with crappies, bullheads, bluegills, channel cats and carp providing the most action. Fishing got a big boost after the use of 3.6 horsepower motors became legal.

Two fishermen from Toronto, Larry Leisure and Jack Davis, took home three bass last week. The largest one was 5 pounds, 21 inches. Another was 4 pounds, 20 inches and the smallest 3 pounds, 18½ inches.

As of now, I am on vacation until July 31. After that I will go on retirement. Because of so many telephone calls pertaining to my past occupation and since I am no longer in the service of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, I have had my telephone number changed. I don't mind one bit helping people who want to ask questions, but I am not the "troubleshooter" and no longer accept complaints.

Many people have asked who my successor will be. I have no idea at this writing.

I LIKE TO think I did not make too many enemies during my tenure, although so - called game wardens are not always too popular with certain individuals.

At least I feel very good when some individual stops in at my home and wishes me well. Also, very much appreciated is the life membership card I received from the Leetonia Sportsmen Club.

I will be spending many of my idle hours sitting in the shade of the trees in my yard this summer and listening to the mocking bird that sounds off from dawn to dark. Talk about a big eater. He will eat an apple every day if one is provided. I don't know how he does it, since a large apple weighs more than he does.

Takes New Post

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Al Burger, 29, head basketball coach at Greenfield McClain High School for the past two years, has accepted the head cage coaching post at Wilmington High School.

After coaching Dartmouth's tennis team for 25 years, Edward (Red) Hoehn resigned to enter business.

Allison, Battey, Killebrew Leading AL In Home Runs

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Power brand baseball is keeping the Minnesota Twins in the American League race, specifically the muscle triumvirate of Bob Allison, Earl Battey and Harmon Killebrew.

No other AL team can match the output this season of the Twins' Big Three.

The trio has 50 home runs and 125 runs batted in for 71 games.

Allison smacked two homers Wednesday night as Minnesota ripped Detroit 6-1, while Battey socked one.

Allison now leads the league with 19 homers, and also is first in RBI with 52 and runs scored with 51.

Battey is tied for third in homers at 16 and Killebrew is right behind with 15. Battey has 43 RBI.

Killebrew has whacked nine this month to close in on the leaders.

Twins Manager Sam Mele just enjoys the three - way power splurge, he doesn't analyze it. "It's great," he said Wednesday night. "They're our big men. If they don't hit the long ball, we don't get it. It's pretty self-evident how important these three guys are."

Reconstruction Work At Wheeling Halted

WHEELING (AP) — Reconstruction of Wheeling Downs grandstand and a possible racing meet this winter have been threatened by a dispute over insurance money, track owner James F. Edwards said today.

Edwards said he would bring suit against Wheeling Racing Association, Inc., of Detroit, which holds a mortgage on the track, if the firm continues to hold back insurance money on the grandstand which burned last December.

Edwards said the Detroit group has demanded that the money be applied to the mortgage.

Midland Group To Aid In Fund For Scholarship

Plans to hold a "Dollars for Scholars" drive in Midland next year were discussed at an initial meeting of a Midland citizens committee Wednesday night with Joe Coons, president of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation of the East Liverpool Area, Inc.

The group met at the WOHI studio in East Liverpool. Members of the committee, most of whom attended, are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henkin, John Reider, Ray Stowitzky, Rudolph Presutti and Mrs. R. D. Paisley, all of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Renwick and Earl Rankin, all of Industry R. D. 1.

Mayor Eli Corak and School Supt. Ralph H. Jewell will serve as ex-officio members. Other Midland citizens are urged to join the committee.

Coons pointed out that funds contributed by the Midland area will go back to that area for its applicants. The first drive of the scholarship Foundation held this year included the East Liverpool, Wellsville and Northern Hancock County areas. Twenty-one scholarships were presented.

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. participated in this year's drive.

Disappointed that Midland as a whole did not join in the drive, Mr. and Mrs. Henkin have begun creating interest in the Midland Area. The committee said a general meeting of Midland citizens will be held the latter part of July when members of the scholarship foundation will explain how Midland may participate and benefit its students.

Wellsville Drill Squad Declines Competition

The drill squad of Wellsville VFW Post 9285 will not compete in the state VFW competition at Cincinnati over the weekend, according to Kenneth Carter, squad president.

Carter said the unit does not have enough men to enter this year. The squad has held the state championship the past three years.

The convention will open Friday at Cincinnati. Carter said the squad will participate in area street parades, however.

Outlaws Strikes

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno's government has outlawed strikes in "key and vital" industries, apparently in an attempt to prevent Communist-dominated labor unions from paralyzing Indonesia's limping economy.

Negro Disturbance Rumor Denied By Midland NAACP

At a meeting of Midland residents Tuesday, the Midland NAACP reported as unfounded the rumors that a Negro demonstration has been planned for Midland's annual July 4th celebration.

Will T. Leavell, president of the Midland branch, said that Midland Negroes and their families are concerned over the rumors as much as other residents and Tri-State spectators to the annual celebration.

He said the NAACP has no plans for a demonstration. He said the NAACP "seeks peaceful solutions to problems and does not try to solve them by creating situations that would disturb community tranquility."

Councilman Lester Trainer, representing Mayor Eli Corak and Borough Council, said there is no basis for the rumors and the holiday celebration will go on as planned.

He said, "It is unfortunate that such rumors, evidently started by irresponsible people, should be given such credence."

Concern had been created by the rumors in the Tri - State area that a demonstration would be held and that many persons would not take their families to the July 4th celebration.

Also attending the meeting in Council Chambers in the Borough Building were the Rev. W. L. Harris, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church and vice president of the Midland branch; the Rev. J. M. Marbrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Carl Lacey and Aaron Golding, branch members, Police Chief Ed J. Stefl and Earl Rankin, executive secretary of the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was called by Leavell, who said that Midland Negroes are concerned over the vicious and baseless rumors. He pointed out that there is no cause for outsiders to demonstrate in Midland since the Midland Negroes are the ones to handle their own problems.

Both ministers agreed that the Negroes do not want to do anything that would hurt their community, but they want to be a part and contribute to it.

Leavell suggested that a committee, appointed by Council, should study problems which exist for Midland Negroes.

He said such a committee could have had great influence in stopping the present rumors and solving future problems.

Trainer said he would report Leavell's recommendation to Council at its meeting tonight and he said he felt sure that Council would set up such a committee.

Golding said the rumors may have been started by someone who misconstrued the NAACP's plans to send funds to help in the South rather than enter a float in the annual Midland celebration. He said someone may have wrongly believed that the local branch was planning a demonstration in Midland.

South Side Club Enters Tourney

The South Side Athletic Club Tuesday night accepted an invitation to enter a Junior League team in the annual Robinson Township tournament and James Ashcroft, president, appointed a committee to arrange for participation.

The committee, comprised of Paul Berzella, Don Brown and Dan Wright, will attend the Robinson Township group's meeting Sunday at 1 p. m. for a rules interpretation and team drawing. Playing dates will be determined at this time.

The tournament is sponsored by the Robinson Township Lions Club with proceeds going to the School for the Blind in Pittsburgh.

A Tag Day was set for either Friday or Saturday to be held in each team's respective districts.

Donations of $5.10 from the Shippingport Mothers Club and $10 from the IBOP Local 124 were acknowledged.

Ashcroft was appointed to make arrangements for buses to take the boys to the Pirates-Cubs game in Pittsburgh July 20.

Next meeting is July 9 at the Hookstown firemen's hall.

Cabinet Gets Okay

JERUSALIEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—The 15-member coalition cabinet of Premier Levi Eshkol won Parliament's approval Wednesday night. The vote, along coalition-opposition lines, was 64-43.

Former Resident Receives Award Posthumously

Stanford University has awarded a special certificate, the first of its kind, to the late William F. Boyd, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Boyd of Portsmouth, Ohio, former East Liverpool residents.

Boyd was killed in an automobile accident Jan. 19 near Madeira, Calif. He would have been graduated from the university's law school this month.

Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford, presented the certificate to Boyd's father in a ceremony during commencement week at Palo Alto.

Boyd's name was carried in a new in memoriam section of the Stanford program following the honors degrees section.

Dr. Sterling said the university has established a new policy "for deserving students who become deceased close to graduation" in awarding this special certificate to Boyd and starting the in memoriam section. Stanford has always had the policy of not granting a regular degree unless it has been fully earned, he explained.

A memorial fund to Boyd has been started by contributions from his classmates to the George E. Osborne Loan Fund which is administered by the Stanford Law Association, a student organization, and utilized to make short-term loans to needy students.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Even with the wide array of colors in iron-on mending tapes often there is not one the exact shade for patching children's clothes.

My children have been delighted to have a bright "orange heart" ironed on over a knee on blue jeans, a red ball over another worn spot with a different color. Any design can be made "cut to order" from the gay patch material, using pinking shears to make it really fancy and fun — and the kids are remarkably proud to wear patched clothes.

MARY DAVIS.

-:-

LADIES: By using pinking shears when applying iron-on tape, I have found that the little jagged edges keep the tape from pulling loose in those many washings!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Would someone please tell us how to make sugar starch. I need this to starch center pieces and doilies. I have tried many prepared starches but they do not seem to make them stiff enough. would appreciate an answer from someone who crochets and knows the true recipe.

CARROLL SEALOCK.

-:-

Does anyone have the old-fashioned recipe for sugar starch? This is the kind we used to use when they made those lovely crocheted doilies, etc. If so, please send it to us. There are many people who would love it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a trick I find very helpful for keeping a half, or left-over portion of avocado.

I like it served with canned grapefruit segments, a dab of mayonnaise and a sprinkle of paprika.

Peel the leftover part of the avocado and drop it into some juice of the grapefruit! It keeps well for several days in the refrigerator.

CORINNE ANGLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I tuck the small slivers of all of my soap bars into each shelf of my linen closet and our dresser drawers. I also put them in the bottom of the clothes hamper. I never have a musty old smell anymore.

YOUR GAL.

DEAR HELOISE: I had a lovely chrome cannister set and matching step-up garbage can which continually kept my shelves and drawers marked with black from scooting them around.

I turned them all over and coated the edges with two coats of clear nail polish and now have no more markings!

MAGGIE HAYNES.

DEAR MAGGIE: Why wouldn't this also do for rusty cannisters sets after you have removed the rust.

Remove the rust by wadding up a piece of foil and rubbing as if you were using dynamite! If the rust is real bad remove most of it first with a soap-filled scouring pad.

Then put your nail polish on. You're terrific.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I remove the ties on my baby's bib and sew a length of elastic to each corner. It is much simpler to slip the bib over the baby's wiggly little noggin than trying to tie the strings!

When making your own bias tape, instead of heating the iron to press the raw edges towards the center, try this:

Fold bias strip right down the center and crease with your thumbnail or an iron. To attach it to the garment, stitch the raw edges to the garment then handstitch the folded edge to the article. The whole thing is much easier and faster to handle.

3 In Area Holdup Given Pen Term

Three Canton men charged with armed robbery of the Highway Oil Co. station near the Pennsylvania-West Virginia border, after a holdup at the Valley Service Station at Cannons Mills Feb. 19, were sentenced to prison terms today in the Beaver County Court at Beaver.

Robert L. Jordan, 30, who pleaded guilty, was given 7½-15 years, and Alfred L. Bonner, 29, got 4-8 years and George Robinson, 30, received 2-4 years. Both had been found guilty.

Wives of two also were tried. Delores Bryant was found guilty of being an accessory after the fact and was given a year in the County Jail. Charges against Gladys Robinson were dismissed.

The three were captured in a roadblock in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania gas station, shortly after the robbery of the East Liverpool outlet. Columbiana County placed a detainer on the trio, pending Beaver County prosecution.

In another case, William Louis Davis of Smiths Ferry was found guilty of five counts of sodomy and four of contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was ordered to take a psychiatric examination.

Lawrenceville Post Will Hold Installation

Virgil Williams will be installed as commander of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163, along with other officers, Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the post home near Chester.

Chester Matney of Welch, West Virginia, department commander, and Tommy E. Jones of Charleston, department adjutant, will conduct the ceremony.

A dinner will be served by a committee of auxiliary and post members, followed by a dance for members and guests.

Prisoner Released As Beaver Fails To Act

LISBON — Richard A. Riley Jr., 19, of Rogers has been released from the County Jail because Beaver County authorities took no further action to return him to Pennsylvania for prosecution of malicious destruction of phone booths.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan freed Riley without waiting for a habeas corpus hearing scheduled this morning in Common Pleas Court. The sheriff said he was not served with the writ but let Riley go after advising Beaver officials Saturday that he would hold him only two days on their warrant. When he had heard no further word by 3 p. m. Tuesday, he freed Riley.

Riley, indicted by the April Grand Jury, pleaded guilty before Judge Raymond Buzzard and served 15 days in the County Jail for destroying phone property. He was wanted in Beaver on a similar charge.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Joys Of A Second Banana

"I'm happy as a second banana," said Tim Conway, who should know. As the rounding, balding, and rather dense Ensign Charles Parker of ABC-TV's something called 'The Tim "McHale's Navy," he is one of the best of them.

Alan Gill

"A second banana has less responsibility. See, if Conway Show' goes off the air, you're in trouble. But if the thing you're second banana in, 'The Harry Zilch Show,' collapses, all you have to do is tell everyone, 'Yeah, it's too bad about Harry. God love him, he was a nice guy to work for.'"

-:-

THE ONLY TIME a featured player need worry, according to Conway, is "when you pick up a script and find out that you've been killed in action."

This particular second banana was born 29 years ago in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, "a real Tom Sawyer town where a kid will push a log a whole mile to get it to the river and then have it sink on him."

Tim, though an alumnus of Bowling Green State U., went to high school in Chagrin Falls, where his father is still the town tinsmith. His service experience came in 1956.

"I worked," he said, "in an Army camp mailroom at Puget Sound and there you just didn't know when a bullet was gonna come at you out of nowhere."

-:-

AS THE writer - producer - director of local TV shows in Cleveland, Tim got to write some routines for himself, based on a character quite similar to that of Charles Parker; and at least once a week he'd get to do his stuff on camera.

"I'd be a service man one day, or the fastest sports car driver in the world the next — a guy who'd lost the Indianapolis 500 even though he was 18 laps ahead at the three-quarter point.

"What happened was, he pulled in to change a tire — but into the wrong pit. And he noticed after awhile that the mechanics were drinking pop and tossing the gas cap around."

Steve Allen heard about the Cleveland flash and invited Conway out to Hollywood in a TV guest spot. Since that auspicious debut, Conway had appeared with Allen on at least a score of occasions, most recently portraying the original Tarzan of the movies as he is called upon to deliver a cottage cheese commercial.

-:-

"I LIKE to write comedy stuff," Conway was saying the other day. "I've written four 'McHale' scripts, only one of which has been seen. And I've got a skit on fat people called 'Fat Chance' that I've had hopes for for years.

"I've mimeographed 15,000 copies and I drop them from planes and that sort of thing whenever I get the chance."

Tim's job with the "McHale" crew happened, by his account, in the following manner:

"They had shot this deadly serious pilot film about a PT boat and everybody who saw it said, 'Now there is a funny show.' So they assigned to Ed Montagne, the producer, the job of making a comedy - on - purpose out of it.

-:-

"ED WENT for the utterly ridiculous, the thing that would out-Bilko Bilko. He needed a character to tie McHale to Joe Flynn and said, 'I've got just the guy.' He'd seen me on the Allen show and said, 'Tim Conway,' and everyone said, 'Who?'

"Then they got a look at the tape of the Allen thing and they still said, 'Who?' But I was in."

The boy from Chagrin Falls became a nationally known funny man, worked himself from 180 to 165 pounds, got married, became a father, and settled into the life of a wealthy Angeleno.

"We're in luck," he said. "Our home is in a slide area and it's sliding toward a very rich section."

-:-

THE PEOPLE out there?

"Wild," he said. "It's dangerous to go around. But they're very nice and Steve Allen is their unwritten leader. Steve is wacky and he's got a tremendous capacity for organizing his thoughts and saying them, without misusing one word, in a voice and with an authority you'd never question."

If Conway has any objection to Los Angeles, it's the weather.

"You wake up every morning and it's a nice day. I feel as thought I've been there 20 years."

Anyhow, he is looking forward to more seasons of "McHale's Navy" — "It's getting wilder in the fall, and the characters are lots dumber" — and then maybe a series of movies, in the "Andy Hardy" manner, but starring the Ensign Parker-like character.

Until then, he has his fan mail to sustain him.

"Most of it is from young girls saying, 'Gee, you're dumb! Or, 'Gee, you're cute!' Or, 'My father really likes you.'"

It's not the sort of stuff Vincent Edwards gets.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents' Attitude Affects Child

Yesterday we noted that very often the child or youth reveals creative talent in ways that are considered undesirable. He's a non - conformist. With his creative urges, he may annoy his parents, teachers and other persons. Yet, as Dr. E. Paul Torrance has pointed out, we need to recognize creative talent even in such behavior and to try to direct it into socially valuable achievements. His fear seems to be that creative talent might not be recognized and identified; that it might, indeed, be crushed out. A practical question may arise: must a little child be a brat or older person a beatnik to be most creative?

Dr. Garry Meyers

WE WHO DEAL with the child are faced with a dilemma. If we hamper all behavior which annoys us and others, we may kill his creative urges. If we never curb what he wishes to do and never require him to do what he doesn't feel like doing, he may be impossible to live with.

Some limitations, requirements and conformities seem to be desirable. Do we have to think of all or no permissiveness? Is it not possible to cultivate reasonable regard for the rights of others and still encourage a high degree of creative interests and activities?

As soon as a child begins to toddle, the less restrained he is the more he may express curiosity by exploring, getting new experiences, finding answers to his own questions. He might learn a great deal by tampering with the mechanism of the piano, clock or TV set, taking it apart. See, too, how much he might learn from his curiosity if turned loose in the kitchen.

Imagine this youngster coming into your house as a guest. Would you like to encourage his creative urges then?

OR THE YOUNGSTER at the age of five or six, with great curiosity, being free to satisfy it uncurbed might, as a guest in your home, run everywhere, opening cupboard doors and drawers, examining and handling in all sorts of ways ever so many fragile articles. He might have many creative experiences at inventing new combinations and new uses for many objects.

Suppose your child, as he scribbles and paints, evincing creative talent, should choose to scratch pictures on the polished furniture. In all such instances, are you going to let him go ahead unrestrained so he might develop his creative talents?

If we will carefully observe how we ourselves and others hamper creativity in the child two, ten or eighteen, we will discover it is not so much a matter of restraints or requirements in all directions but chiefly in directions not necessarily related to consideration for the rights of others.

Let's name a few examples: making fun of a child's questions or of what he thinks he has created; being too busy or too uninterested to answer his questions or listen to what he wants to tell us; showing no interest in what he creates and invents with words, blocks and other materials.

—:—

OUR ATTITUDE of indifference, even contempt of his efforts at expressing individuality, originality or creativeness, is most harmful of all. We do best at furthering creativeness in the child when we always treat him as the precious person he is.

My bulletins, "Beginnings of Imagination" and "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination," may be secured by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

2 Incumbents To Return As City Planners

E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Don Eckert, operator of the Camera Mart on E. 5th St., will be appointed to new six-year terms on the City Planning Commission, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

Current terms of the two incumbents on the unsalaried commission run out at midnight Sunday.

The mayor said he talked with Wheatley Wednesday afternoon and received conformation that the IBOP president would agree to serve again. He said it is his "fullest intention" to appoint Eckert to a new term and that he will confer with Eckert today. Eckert now serves as the commission's chairman.

"I feel these men are entitled to remain as members of the commission," the mayor said. "The commission was generally inactive as a whole for the last few years because the city did not have the money to go into planning. For that reason, they did not have an opportunity to show what they could do, but now that Council has provided money for a master plan, I feel that they should continue to serve."

For several weeks, the commission has been conferring with engineering concerns and others which have offered proposals to prepare a "master plan" to help guide East Liverpool's growth and development. Another meeting is set Monday night to begin narrowing down the field of applicants and take steps toward seeking competitive bids.

The commission's membership totals seven. The mayor, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Judge Louis Tobin, chairman of the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners, are members by law because of their offices. Other citizen members are William Rea and George Steele. Robert Brooks is secretary.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Joys Of A Second Banana

"I'm happy as a second banana," said Tim Conway, who should know. As the rounding, balding, and rather dense Ensign Charles Parker of ABC-TV's something called 'The Tim "McHale's Navy," he is one of the best of them.

Alan Gill

"A second banana has less responsibility. See, if Conway Show' goes off the air, you're in trouble. But if the thing you're second banana in, 'The Harry Zilch Show,' collapses, all you have to do is tell everyone, 'Yeah, it's too bad about Harry. God love him, he was a nice guy to work for.'"

-:-

THE ONLY TIME a featured player need worry, according to Conway, is "when you pick up a script and find out that you've been killed in action."

This particular second banana was born 29 years ago in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, "a real Tom Sawyer town where a kid will push a log a whole mile to get it to the river and then have it sink on him."

Tim, though an alumnus of Bowling Green State U., went to high school in Chagrin Falls, where his father is still the town tinsmith. His service experience came in 1956.

"I worked," he said, "in an Army camp mailroom at Puget Sound and there you just didn't know when a bullet was gonna come at you out of nowhere."

-:-

AS THE writer - producer - director of local TV shows in Cleveland, Tim got to write some routines for himself, based on a character quite similar to that of Charles Parker; and at least once a week he'd get to do his stuff on camera.

"I'd be a service man one day, or the fastest sports car driver in the world the next — a guy who'd lost the Indianapolis 500 even though he was 18 laps ahead at the three-quarter point.

"What happened was, he pulled in to change a tire — but into the wrong pit. And he noticed after awhile that the mechanics were drinking pop and tossing the gas cap around."

Steve Allen heard about the Cleveland flash and invited Conway out to Hollywood in a TV guest spot. Since that auspicious debut, Conway had appeared with Allen on at least a score of occasions, most recently portraying the original Tarzan of the movies as he is called upon to deliver a cottage cheese commercial.

-:-

"I LIKE to write comedy stuff," Conway was saying the other day. "I've written four 'McHale' scripts, only one of which has been seen. And I've got a skit on fat people called 'Fat Chance' that I've had hopes for for years.

"I've mimeographed 15,000 copies and I drop them from planes and that sort of thing whenever I get the chance."

Tim's job with the "McHale" crew happened, by his account, in the following manner:

"They had shot this deadly serious pilot film about a PT boat and everybody who saw it said, 'Now there is a funny show.' So they assigned to Ed Montagne, the producer, the job of making a comedy - on - purpose out of it.

-:-

"ED WENT for the utterly ridiculous, the thing that would out-Bilko Bilko. He needed a character to tie McHale to Joe Flynn and said, 'I've got just the guy.' He'd seen me on the Allen show and said, 'Tim Conway,' and everyone said, 'Who?'

"Then they got a look at the tape of the Allen thing and they still said, 'Who?' But I was in."

The boy from Chagrin Falls became a nationally known funny man, worked himself from 180 to 165 pounds, got married, became a father, and settled into the life of a wealthy Angeleno.

"We're in luck," he said. "Our home is in a slide area and it's sliding toward a very rich section."

-:-

THE PEOPLE out there?

"Wild," he said. "It's dangerous to go around. But they're very nice and Steve Allen is their unwritten leader. Steve is wacky and he's got a tremendous capacity for organizing his thoughts and saying them, without misusing one word, in a voice and with an authority you'd never question."

If Conway has any objection to Los Angeles, it's the weather.

"You wake up every morning and it's a nice day. I feel as thought I've been there 20 years."

Anyhow, he is looking forward to more seasons of "McHale's Navy" — "It's getting wilder in the fall, and the characters are lots dumber" — and then maybe a series of movies, in the "Andy Hardy" manner, but starring the Ensign Parker-like character.

Until then, he has his fan mail to sustain him.

"Most of it is from young girls saying, 'Gee, you're dumb!' Or, 'Gee, you're cute!' Or, 'My father really likes you.'"

It's not the sort of stuff Vincent Edwards gets.

Boy Crushed By Car

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An automobile his aunt had just parked rolled down a slope in Macedonia Wednesday and fatally crushed 3-year-old Clayton Gant against a retaining wall. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gant of Northfield.

2 Incumbents To Return As City Planners

E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Don Eckert, operator of the Camera Mart on E. 5th St., will be appointed to new six-year terms on the City Planning Commission, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

Current terms of the two incumbents on the unsalaried commission run out at midnight Sunday.

The mayor said he talked with Wheatley Wednesday afternoon and received conformation that the IBOP president would agree to serve again. He said it is his "fullest intention" to appoint Eckert to a new term and that he will confer with Eckert today. Eckert now serves as the commission's chairman.

"I feel these men are entitled to remain as members of the commission," the mayor said. "The commission was generally inactive as a whole for the last few years because the city did not have the money to go into planning. For that reason, they did not have an opportunity to show what they could do, but now that Council has provided money for a master plan, I feel that they should continue to serve."

For several weeks, the commission has been conferring with engineering concerns and others which have offered proposals to prepare a "master plan" to help guide East Liverpool's growth and development. Another meeting is set Monday night to begin narrowing down the field of applicants and take steps toward seeking competitive bids.

The commission's membership totals seven. The mayor, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Judge Louis Tobin, chairman of the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners, are members by law because of their offices. Other citizen members are William Rea and George Steele. Robert Brooks is secretary.

Boys Build Bonfires With Flags Off Graves

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police have accused five teen-aged boys of building a bonfire with hundreds of flags from veterans' graves.

The boys were charged Wednesday with malicious mischief. Detectives quoted one as saying: "We did it for the heck of it."

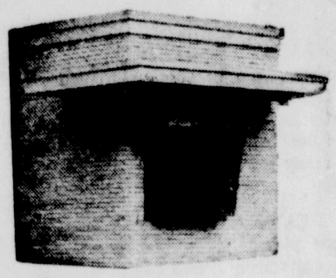

Four of the boys are 15. The other is 14. They were released to their parents pending family court action.

Jim Bouton, young sophomore pitcher with the New York Yankees, attends Western Michigan University in the off season.

Man Gets 7-15 Years In Slaying Woman In 1954

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An itinerant photographer has been sentenced to seven to 15 years in prison for the killing of a woman whose body was left in a sealed box for eight years.

Visiting Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong County handed down the sentence yesterday against John J. O'Neill, 42, formerly of Louisville, Ky.

The sentencing, for second degree murder, came a few hours after O'Neill had switched his plea to guilty during his trial in Allegheny County Criminal Court. He made the switch after listening to a tape recorded statement he had made at his arrest last October.

O'Neill was charged with killing Mrs. Pearl Kercher, 57, during an argument at his Pittsburgh apartment in April, 1954.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An itinerant photographer has been sentenced to seven to 15 years in prison for the killing of a woman whose body was left in a sealed box for eight years.

Visiting Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong County handed down the sentence yesterday against John J. O'Neill, 42, formerly of Louisville, Ky.

The sentencing, for second degree murder, came a few hours after O'Neill had switched his plea to guilty during his trial in Allegheny County Criminal Court. He made the switch after listening to a tape recorded statement he had made at his arrest last October.

O'Neill was charged with killing Mrs. Pearl Kercher, 57, during an argument at his Pittsburgh apartment in April, 1954.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHARKS

QUESTION: If a shark loses a tooth, will another grow to replace it and will there be more than two sets?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Sharks are more primitive than other fishes. Scientists classify them along with rays and sawfish in a group which they say existed before true fishes came along. Our pictures show the simple spine or "notochord" of the shark contrasted with the more elaborate backbone of the true fish. A remarkable thing about the skin of many sharks is the presence of "placoid scales," that is, scales shaped like little teeth (A). This explains why shark skin is often used like sandpaper. Some of these scales are very close to real teeth, as (B) shows. There is a pulp cavity inside and enamel outside. The shark's real teeth are a further development of these toothlike scales. Behind each tooth the shark is using a series of replacement teeth is growing, as seen in (C). A membrane on the inside of the mouth is carrying these replacement teeth along so that they will be ready to use when the outer teeth are worn or fall off. There may be as many as seven or eight rows of replacement teeth growing at one time. Sharks teeth vary according to kinds. Besides the tooth of the great white shark, we show (D) that of the thresher, the tooth of the hammerhead (E) and that of the tiger shark (F).

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: A shark's tooth is a most interesting thing to have in a natural history collection. See if you can get one.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I noticed with interest your proclamation of "Return Borrowed Book Day." I'll bet hundreds of books were returned to their owners as a result of that wonderful column.

And now, Ann, will you please proclaim a day for the return of borrowed dishes, bowls and pans? So many well-meaning people bring food to friends and relatives and that's the last they ever see of their containers.

My muffin tin is gone and I don't know who has it. My two choice mixing bowls are floating around somewhere, not to mention my china casserole. I hate to phone friends and ask if they have these items because it seems so "chintzy."

So please, Ann, proclaim a day for the return of dishes, bowls and pans. Housewives everywhere will call you blessed.—MA HUBBARD.

Dear Ma Hubbard: Paging all housewives! Today is the day to check the cupboards for odd dishes, bowls, pans, casseroles and containers of all sizes and shapes.

Many women are reluctant to return these items — empty — so they procrastinate, and wind up keeping them forever. Take it from me, girls, the owners would rather have them empty than not at all . . . so get going.

A Full House

Dear Ann: Last week our 17-year-old son brought home a boy friend and asked if he could stay with us until he is graduated from high school next year.

The lad is an "A" student, well behaved, attends church every Sunday and never runs around. Any set of respectable parents would be proud of a son like this.

His parents, unfortunately, are not decent people. The school counselor advised the boy to move out of the house. He had no place to go so my son brought him here.

Our problem is that we are just barely making it financially. My 90-year-old father lives with us, and we have three other children. Is there any way we can make the boy's parents pay for his keep? They have not contacted him since he left home three weeks ago, although they know where he is. Please advise us.—WANT TO HELP.

-:-

Dear Want To Help: The school authorities should look into your community's foster home plan. Perhaps you can be paid by the county or the state if the boy's parents are not able to do so.

If for some reason you cannot be paid PLEASE, PLEASE keep him anyway. Few people have the privilege of performing a service so valuable. You could be his guardian angels.

Surprise, Not Shock

Dear Ann: I was 12 years old when my parents explained to me that my real mother had died when I was an infant and that my mother was actually my stepmother. This came as a surprise but not a shock.

My stepmother is a sensitive woman so I have not brought up the subject since and neither has she.

My own children are now 10 and 11 years of age and I never have told them. Young children sometimes say the wrong thing and I'd feel terrible if they embarrased their grandmother in any way.

We don't live in the same city and the children see their grandmother infrequently. Do you think they should be told? Or is it best to leave sleeping dogs lie? — UNDECIDED.

-:-

Dear Undecided: There are no dogs around—just facts. And I see no reason why the children shouldn't be told. They probably will show surprisingly little interest in the subject since they themselves are not involved. You'll wonder why you made such a big deal of it.

Confidentially

TO HEARTSICK: Time wounds all heels and he'll get his. Don't spend another minute thinking about how to get even. It's bootless and destructive.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Blast Furnace To Be Relined

No. 1 Blast Furnace, the largest of three at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., will shut down Friday for complete relining after producing a record 4 million tons of iron.

The company announced that as No. 1 Blast Furnace is shut down, No. 3 Blast Furnace will be reactivated. No. 2 Blast Furnace remains in operation.

Stanley Darbut of Ohio View, blast furnace superintendent, said that No. 1's record is better than any in the past at the Midland Works and as good as that for any blast furnace anywhere in the world.

Darbut and Karl Deshler of East Liverpool R. D. 2, maintenance foreman, both give credit for the exceptional performance and long life of the furnace lining to the skill and co-operation of maintenance personnel.

No. 1 Blast Furnace towers 249 feet, as tall as an 18-story office building. It is the furnace which every Christmas since 1954 has been decorated with lights, presenting a huge Christmas tree at night.

The furnace takes coke, ores, limestone and air to produce hot metal for the open hearths at the Midland Works and pig iron for outside customers.

The furnace was built in 1951 and "blown-in" — put into operation — Dec. 12, 1952.

Since 1955, Henry (Hank) Aaron has played 151 or more games every season with the Milwaukee Braves.

Helen Keller, 83, Decides To Relax On Her Birthday

EASTON, Conn. (AP)—After a bustling life, Helen Keller has decided to relax a little.

So there won't be any special fuss today—her 83rd birthday.

But there was no rest for the mailman as he bore his heavy burden to Miss Keller's sprawling old house, Arcan Ridge.

Greetings to the blind and deaf author came from the humble and the great. There also were bouquets of roses, Miss Keller's favorite flower.

"You are one of the select company of men and women whose achievements have become legendary in their own time," wrote President Kennedy.

In recent years, Miss Keller has limited her activity but she continues as a consultant to the American Foundation for the Blind.

"Miss Keller is happy, alert and content," says Mrs. Evelyn Seide, her secretary and companion. "But she now wants to enjoy some of the quiet that has been denied her over the years."

Appeals Court Upsets Verdict In Crash Case

The 7th District Court of Appeals Wednesday reversed the judgment of Common Pleas Court in the $10,000 joint verdict won by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Camerlin of New Cumberland R. D. 2 in a traffic damage case of May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Camerlin sued John Starr, 811 Lisbon St., for $30,000 and $10,000, respectively, and she received $7,500 and her husband $2,500. The collision occurred under a traffic light in East Liverpool and both drivers claimed they had the green light. The case was remanded to the Columbiana County court.

CHARLESTON (AP) — Approval by the Area Redevelopment Administration of $23.8 million worth of loans and grants for West Virginia has been hailed by Gov. Barron as "one of the greatest single developments" in the state's history.

State officials were awaiting word today from Washington on how soon work can begin.

Among the developments on the drawing boards are a 150 - room lodge, golf course and swimming pool at Bluestone; a 30-unit lodge, golf course and land acquisition at Twin Falls; a 120-room lodge, cabins and airstrip in Canaan Valley near Blackwater Falls; and a 20-unit lodge, swimming pool, aerial-tramway and restaurant at Hawk's Nest in Fayette County.
